Gift Day Gratitude
Revd Ros almost needed resuscitating after counting up your Gift Day donations last Sunday! Once again, the generosity of our church family has been nothing short of astounding. The total raised will be announced this morning…

Remembrance Thanks!
Our church and grounds are looking particularly fitting for Remembrance this year. Huge thanks to all who have contributed to our Remembrance display, particularly to Simon and Sharon who have been working on this for many weeks. Your efforts are very much appreciated.

Christmas Fair!
Now Remembrance Sunday is here, we can't put off the Christmas Fair notice any longer! Our Christmas Fair is only 3 weeks away! The sign up list is now available in the conservatory, along with posters and flyers. Raffle tickets are also available, please do take as many as you can manage to sell to friends and neighbours!

Magazine News
Thanks so much to all of you who filled in a questionnaire over the last couple of weeks. The overwhelming consensus is that the magazine is still very much valued and should continue in some form. However a number of people suggested that the format needs updating. Several people have offered their help in developing the magazine moving forward, and so a meeting will be arranged shortly. If you would like to be involved, please speak to Ros.

Co-op Local Community Fund
We are delighted that St Stephen's Stay n' Play been selected as one of Co-op's Local Community Fund beneficiaries. The amount we are awarded will depend on the number of Co-op members who vote for our cause between now and the closing date on 17th October 2027. In order to vote, you need to be a member, but registering is an easy process and costs just £1. The link to our voting page is: membership.coop.co.uk/causes/102041 Please consider signing up and voting for us – the more votes, the more funding we receive!

Messy Church
Our November Messy Church will be taking place next Sunday 4-5.30pm. Please do invite any children who you think might be interested.

Free money!
