

A painting of a man in a brown coat and hat playing a banjo, standing next to a group of five children in winter coats. They are all holding open books, presumably carol books. In the background is a church with a tall tower and a snow-covered roof. The scene is set at night with falling snow and a street lamp on the right.

Carols at Littleham Church, Exmouth Sunday 14th Dec

Come along at 5:30pm for Mince
pies and Hotdogs,
6pm to start
Carols.

We plan to start outside and then move inside. This will be an informal chance to sing carols for all.
Bring a torch and wrap up warm!
