

NEWS AND EVENTS

"Eco Church is a scheme to help church communities improve their Environmental impact.

A Rocha has developed Eco Church, an award scheme for churches of all denominations in England and Wales who want to demonstrate that they care for God's earth."

Eco Church - One Action a Month.

In August we are concentrating on soft plastics. Soft plastics - items like crisp packets, plastic film covering fruit, bread, most sweet wrappers, etc - can't be recycled at home but now supermarkets, including Aldi & Tesco amongst others, have special containers for them. Please look at the Eco Church board in the hall for examples of these plastics.

There has been more news over the last few days about the dreadful damage which plastic is wreaking on our planet, so anything positive we can do is really worthwhile and is one of many ways we can show our gratitude to God for our wonderful world. If you aren't able to take your wrappers etc. to one of the stores please just let Hilary or Christine have them and we will deliver them.

Quote of the week:

I have a dialogue with God at the end of the day. I was raised in the Catholic church and decided to become a priest at one point, but I saw too much horrible stuff at the seminary. That's where I became Johnny Vegas, my defence mechanism.
