The Presentation of Jesus in the Temple

The Mosaic Law set out steps which had to be taken following the birth of a male child. The child had to be circumcised on the eighth day. Circumcision had been established as a sign of the Covenant between the LORD and Abraham [Genesis 13: 10]. In addition, a first-born son had to be consecrated to the LORD [Exodus 13: 2]

Following the birth of any child, a woman was classed as ritually unclean until a period of time had elapsed. For a male child this period was forty days and for a girl, eighty days. [Leviticus 12: 1-5]. As a part of the ritual the woman had to provide a year-old lamb and a young pigeon or dove. A second pigeon or dove could replace the lamb if the family could not afford the lamb.

Thus it was that Mary and Joseph came to the Temple in Jerusalem with Jesus to present Jesus to the Lord and to cleanse Mary following the birth. A service of thanksgiving after childbirth originally called the Churching of Women,, based on that in the Book of Common Prayer, is still available in Common Worship for those who wish to give thanks after childbirth.

Whilst in the temple they encountered two significant individuals. Simeon was a devout and righteous man who had received a promise from the LORD by the Holy Spirit, that he would live to see the LORD's Messiah. He was moved to go to the Temple where he discovered Jesus and recognised Him. [Luke 2: 25-35]. Simeon's words of praise are an element of the service of Evening Prayer in the form of the Nunc Dimittis: "Lord now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace for mine eyes have seen Thy Salvation..." [Luke 2: 29-30 BCP]. Anna is described as a prophet. She was eighty-four years old having been widowed after just seven years of marriage. She worshipped night and day in the Temple. Anna was also led to recognise Jesus as the long-promised Messiah. She gave thanks to God and spent the rest of her days speaking about Jesus to the people she met.

The Presentation in the Temple was the first time that Jesus was in the Temple in Jerusalem which was to feature in his ministry.

Light of the World, You stepped down into darkness...
Tim Hughes MP 1096

Candlemas is celebrated each year on or near the second of February and in some traditions marks the end of the Christmas season and coincides with the Presentation of Jesus in the Temple. The name Candlemas derives from the custom of bringing candles into church on that day to be blessed. These would then be used for the rest of the year in churches and homes. In some areas special services and candle-lit processions are held as part of the celebrations.

Candles have been used as a source of light for more than five thousand years and have been used in Christian celebrations since the fourth Century. We still use them in our services as a symbol of the Light of Christ at certain times of the year and more particularly in our Baptism services where the parents are given a lighted candle on behalf of the child with the words...
"You have received the light of Christ; walk in this light all the days of your life. Shine as a light in the world to the glory of God the Father"
