Epiphany Blessing 2026

There is a tradition of blessing chalk at Epiphany to mark the threshold of our homes with a new year blessing.

It picks up Old Testament traditions of marking the doorposts of the house with biblical texts (Deuteronomy 6:9), the theme of the Holy Family welcoming visitors to their home to visit the Christ-child, and a reminder of the importance of hospitality throughout the Scriptures.

Because of the timing of Epiphany at the start of the year, it also offers a chance to pray for God's blessing at the start of the new year.

The letters and numbers that people chalk on their doors pick up the new year, the Epiphany story, and the prayer for blessing in a simple formula, written like this 20 + C + M + B + 26. The 20 and 26 are of course the beginning and end of the year's date. The middle three letters stand for the traditional names of the wise men (magi): Caspar, Melchior and Balthasar. They also represent the initials of the Latin phrase "Christus mansionem benedicat" – "Christ bless the house." Together they represent our prayer at the start of the year that our homes, too, may be places blessed by the love and light of Christ.

See the link below for simple Epiphany prayers to use at home and in church.

Hope and Blessing in the Year Ahead - a New Year message from

Bishop Martin

Happy New Year! We say it with sincerity, yet we know 2026 will not be easy for many. Some will face unemployment and the crushing sense of being left behind. Others will battle addiction or endure the pain of a violent home. Families will struggle under the weight of debt, and countless people will suffer prejudice simply because of the colour of their skin. Many will live with illness—mental or physical—or walk the difficult road toward life's end. Against such realities, "Happy New Year" can sound like a fragile hope.

But in the Bible, "happy" and "blessed" share the same meaning. In Luke 6:20, Jesus declares: "Blessed are you who are poor, for yours is the kingdom of God. Blessed are you who weep now, for you will laugh. Blessed are you when people hate you and exclude you, for surely your reward will be great in heaven." These words remind us that those who suffer are not forgotten—they are seen by God with love, and counted as blessed.

I see this lived out every day as Bishop of Dudley. I chair a charity called CHADD which offers safety and dignity to victims of domestic abuse. The Goodsoil Project in Worcester helps people overcoming addiction by growing crops and rebuilding lives. The Black Country Foodbank served half a million meals last year—with grace and kindness. These organisations, born from faith and compassion, bring light into the darkest places. Volunteers often tell me that in serving others, they themselves feel blessed.

So as we step into 2026, let's turn hope into action. How can you make a difference in your community? How can you help build a kinder, stronger world? When you do, you'll discover something profound: blessing flows both ways. And then, perhaps, "Happy New Year" will be more than a wish—it will be a reality.

Happy New Year!

Bishop Martin

A Christmas message from the Bishop of Dudley and Acting Bishop of Worcester – what brings you joy?

What brings you joy at Christmas? I know it's been a hard year for many and a hard year for our world. Not much peace, not much joy, it seems.

But at this time of year in churches, it is a privilege to see the joy on people's faces, particularly children, as they visit for Christingle and crib services. We see their excitement and expectation as we remember the tiny baby born in a stable.

As a vicar, I've always found Midnight Mass services particularly special, singing carols together and feeling the peace of Christ, as well as the joy of his birth.

And then after the service, I'll walk home on my own in the peace and quiet of the early morning. Knowing the joy and the peace of Christmas in my heart.

I hope that the joy and peace of the Christ Child will be God's gifts to you as well as to me this Christmas time.
