From Revd James Little

Continuing last month's theme of spring flowers:
William Wordsworth's Daffodils

I wandered lonely as a cloud
That floats on high o'er vales and hills,
When all at once I saw a crowd,
A host, of golden daffodils;
Beside the lake, beneath the trees,
Fluttering and dancing in the breeze.

The waves beside them danced; but they
Out-did the sparkling waves in glee:
A poet could not but be gay,
In such a jocund company:
I gazed—and gazed—but little thought
What wealth the show to me had [brought:

Continuous as the stars that shine
And twinkle on the milky way,
They stretched in never-ending line
Along the margin of a bay:
Ten thousand saw I at a glance,
Tossing their heads in sprightly dance.

For oft, when on my couch I lie
In vacant or in pensive mood,
They flash upon that inward eye
Which is the bliss of solitude;
And then my heart with pleasure fills,
And dances with the daffodils.

Stewart's Observations

Candlemas, which falls on the 2nd of February this year is one of the oldest feast days celebrated by the Christian church. It is also known as the Feast of the Presentation of Our Lord Jesus and the Feast of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

It is said to be the day when Jesus was presented as a baby at the Temple in Jerusalem, so he could join the Jewish religion. Christians bring candles to church to be blessed. These candles can then be burned during the year.

The fire brigade has been called to many a house fire caused by candles. Never leave a lighted candle unattended and ensure inflammable curtains, dried or silk flowers or paper etc are well away from the naked flame.

The advice regarding the wearing of suitable non-slip footwear in icy conditions still applies as we get many a frost in February.

Climbing on chairs, tables, stools and even ladders can result in life changing falls, so please take extra care or ask an agile youngster to perform the task.

Here endeth the lesson on personal safety!

Gardening tips for February

Flowers, fruit and Foliage in winter.

Winter foliage and architectural shapes helped with dogwoods and their red and orange stems, create fiery accents in winter borders. Evergreen heathers such as Erica carnea (alpine heath) bring low-maintenance charm to beds and pots.

Christmas roses are one of February's highlights, with their beautiful flowers in pink, white, and purple. Combine these with carpets of snowdrops, who signal the retreat of winter. Winter aconite are also a sign of spring and I am lucky enough to have all three at Staddlethorpe.

Winter berries add colour to the garden in February and provide a great food source for wildlife. Firethorn and Cotoneaster remain heavy with red and orange berries, attracting blackbirds, thrushes, and other hungry garden visitors. Holly also holds onto its striking berries if the birds have paid a visit.

Malus crab apples such as 'Evereste' and 'Red Sentinel' keep their ornamental fruits well into winter. Pauline has two great trees still full of red crab apples. I liked them so much I have just planted two myself ready for next year. February is also an excellent time to plant blueberries, raspberries, and blackcurrants and/or red currants.

Indoors

As February's weather draws on, bringing a touch of greenery into your home will make you feel better. Orchids and succulents or even a cactus or two are easy to care for and add that bit of interest on the dinner table or a bathroom window etc.

The corn plant or spider plant are easy to care for and help improve indoor air quality.

Try to keep the temperature the same and water sparingly. Dust the leaves now and then or shine them with a spray.

Quick colour

February is an excellent time to start planting instant colour. Primroses, pansies, Christmas roses and heathers or colourful foliage plants that usually last all year round

Alpine heather adds long-lasting colour and supports early pollinators.

Pruning

Apple and pear trees should undergo a winter pruning, maintaining their shape and maximising fruiting for 2026.

February is the perfect time for pruning to encourage healthy growth and improve the shape of your plants. Prune bush and climbing roses, removing dead or damaged wood and cutting back stems to promote vigorous new growth.

For wisteria prune side shoots to two or three buds to help focus energy on flower production.

Robert's Local History

Scalby Parish

Scalby which is Norse meaning Skalli's farmstead was first settled around the 9th century, on a ridge of high ground on the edge of Wallingfen.

During the 12th century the Bishop of Durham who at that time owned Howdenshire, wished to establish a buffer between his property and the Templar estate of Faxfleet. So, he granted a narrow strip of land along the East side of what is now called Bishopsoil Drain from the Ouse to Scalby, to the abbot of Thornton Abbey, an Augustinian monastery in Lincolnshire and eventually this area was to become the civil parish of Scalby. As this narrow strip of land resembled a tongue, so the access to it from Scalby was called Tongue Lane and is still called that today.

The first thing the abbot did, was to build a Manor house to run his estate. This was where Thornton House is today. In 1539 when Thornton Abbey was dissolved, the estate passed to the Crown and by 1600 the Metham family had acquired it. But George Montgomery Metham was an addicted gambler and in the late 18th century gradually sold off all his farms one by one in Scalby and Thornton Lands to pay his debts.

In 1344 a murder was committed in Scalby of a 'travelling foreigner' – a Welshman called Dafydd by a local miller. In the Poll tax survey of 1379 Scalby's adult population stood at 70, then bigger than Gilberdyke's.

The place adjacent to Scalby is called Cheapside, because originally it was a hamlet of squatters or poor people who had moved out of Scalby and onto what was officially Bishopsoil Common so they weren't liable for any parish assessment. It was first mentioned in the Blacktoft Parish register in 1739.

In the local government reorganization of 1935 the Civil parish of Scalby came to an end, when that part which was North of the railway was put into Gilberdyke parish and South of the railway went into Blacktoft.

Interesting fact for February

The length of February was decided when Julius Caesar revamped the Roman calendar and gave the month 28 days and 29 days. In 713 B.C., February was officially added to the Roman calendar.

Snowdrop walks can be found at either National Trust or English Heritage sites, which are always worth a visit and provide a little respite from the chilly weather.

Then there's Random Acts of Kindness Day on the 17th.

York is one of our local cities and if you're looking for an event that's both entertaining, and educational, head into the city sometime between Wednesday the 20th and Wednesday the 27th for the historic Jorvik Viking festival.

York once had a rich Viking heritage and it now holds the largest Viking festival in Europe every year during February. Experience historic re-enactments; try your hand at Viking crafts; enjoy a city tour and even take part in a Viking banquet.

Finally, the 22nd is World Thinking Day.
