The passing of a good and faithful servant... the church photocopier!

It is with a mixture of sadness and gratitude that we announce the passing of a long-serving member of our church community: our photocopier, which last week went to sing with the choir celestial.

For over ten faithful years it laboured quietly (well, mostly quietly) in the background, producing service sheets, rotas, newsletters, posters, and all manner of parish paperwork. It served diligently, jammed only occasionally, and rarely complained — though it did develop a few mysterious noises in its later years. Sadly, the time finally came when it could no longer be revived. The manufacturer no longer makes the spare part it needed, and so, with appropriate solemnity, we have had to let it go.

To replace it will cost just over £2,394 including VAT. As many of you know, we bought the previous copier outright and paid per copy along with a service charge, which proved a good and reliable arrangement for us over the years.

The good news is that a very generous member of our congregation has already offered £1,000 towards the replacement, for which we are a bit overwhelmed and extremely thankful. That gift has brought the goal much closer and is a wonderful encouragement.

If anyone else would like to contribute toward the new machine, we would be very grateful. Both the church reserve and current accounts are currently rather depleted, and a functioning photocopier is one of those unglamorous but essential pieces of church life that keeps everything running smoothly behind the scenes.

In the meantime, we give thanks for the faithful service of our dear departed copier and look forward, in hope and prayer, to the arrival of its successor.

Helping prepare the ground — you're invited!

Thank you to everyone who has already rolled up their sleeves to help prepare the strip of garden in the side car park, ready for planting our pollinator-friendly plants. There's been plenty of weeding, clearing and composting to do, and it's been wonderful to see such willing hands getting stuck in. Special thanks go to

Philip for organising the sessions and keeping the project moving.

We'd love others to join in if you're able. Weather permitting, the next opportunities to help are on Friday 13th from 1.30–3.30 and Saturday 20th from 9.30–11.30.

No expertise is needed — just a willingness to help, sturdy shoes, and perhaps a pair of gardening gloves. Whether you can stay for the whole session or just drop in for a short while, every bit of help makes a real difference.

It's a lovely way to spend time together, care for our shared space, and prepare the ground — quite literally — for something beautiful to grow.

Lent - a season to pause and grow

Next week marks the beginning of Lent, the forty days leading up to Easter. It's a quieter season in the Church's year, echoing the forty days Jesus spent in the wilderness before beginning his public ministry — a time of reflection, prayer, and preparation. While some seasons arrive with excitement and celebration, Lent invites us to slow down, take stock, and notice what is happening within us as well as around us.

Traditionally, Lent has been associated with giving something up. Many people still choose to do this, not because the thing itself is bad, but because it helps create space — space to think, to pray, and to focus on what truly matters. Others choose instead to take something up: a daily act of kindness, a moment of stillness, reading a short prayer, or making time for someone who might otherwise be overlooked.

At its heart, Lent is not about denial but about direction. It gently turns our attention back toward God and reminds us that growth often happens quietly. Like seeds growing beneath the soil before spring, something new can be forming in us even when we cannot yet see it.

As Lent begins next week, perhaps we might each consider one small way to make space — space for reflection, for gratitude, and for God — as together we begin the journey that leads us toward the hope and joy of Easter.

UKRAINE APPEAL

Contributions of clothing from St. Leonard's parishioners haven't gone unnoticed by volunteer helpers at the International Aid base in Tarleton.

They say A BIG THANK YOU to you all. Our thanks also to Brian and Jean who regularly take a carload of bags which you have donated. Please keep up the good work. As always leave clothing in bags under the table in the church porch. There are magazines about the work of International Aid in the porch.

Ash Wednesday marks a quiet start to Lent

Easter is early this year, which means that next week, only two weeks after Epiphany, we mark the beginning of Lent with Ash Wednesday. It is perhaps one of the simplest and most meaningful moments in the Church's year — not loud or dramatic, but honest, reflective, and quietly hopeful.

On Ash Wednesday, many Christians receive the sign of the cross traced in ash on their foreheads, with the words:

"Remember that you are dust, and to dust you shall return."

These are not intended to sound gloomy or severe. Rather, they are truthful words that acknowledge something fundamental about human life: that it is fragile, precious, and dependent on God's grace.

The ashes themselves are traditionally made from the palm crosses of the previous year's Palm Sunday, a gentle reminder that in God's hands even what seems finished can become the beginning of something new.

Ash Wednesday stands at the threshold of Lent. It marks a moment to pause, to reflect, and to begin again — a quiet starting point for a season that leads, step by step, toward the hope of the resurrection at Easter.
