Collects for the Month

Feb 1st: Candlemas

Lord Jesus Christ, light of the nations and glory of Israel: make your home among us, and present us pure and holy to your heavenly Father, your God, and our God.

Feb 8th: 2nd before Lent

Almighty God, give us reverence for all creation and respect for every person, that we may mirror your likeness in Jesus Christ our Lord.

Feb 15th: Sunday before Lent

Holy God, you know the disorder of our sinful lives: set straight our crooked hearts, and bend our wills to love your goodness and your glory in Jesus Christ our Lord.

Feb 18th: Ash Wednesday

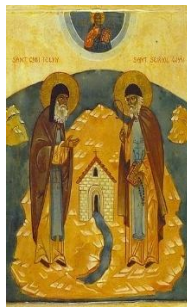

Holy God, our lives lie open before you: rescue us from the chaos of sin and through the death of your Son bring us healing and make us whole in Jesus Christ our Lord.

Feb 22nd: Lent 1

Heavenly Father your Son battled with the powers of darkness, and grew closer to you in the desert; help us to use these days to grow in wisdom and prayer that we may witness to your saving love in Jesus Christ our Lord.

Saint of the Month

1st Feb: St. Seiriol

Seiriol and Cybi meeting.

With Catherine off to Wales, a Welsh saints seemed in order. Seiriol (and Cybi) are saints of Anglesey.

Seiriol was a son of a king. His cell at Penmon is said to have been rebuilt by his brothers, as they didn't think his humble residence was good enough. St Seiriol's Well lies in a small chamber nearby. St Seiriol's Well lies in a small chamber nearby. Adjacent is the church and ruins of a monastery also dating back to Seiriol's day. According to legend, Seiriol and Cybi were good friends, and would meet weekly. Cybi would walk from Holyhead, facing the rising sun in the morning and setting sun in the evening. Cybi was known as Cybi Felyn (Cybi the Tanned), as he was tanned as a result. Seiriol, travelling in the opposite direction, from Penmon, would have his back to the sun. Thus, he was known as Seiriol Wyn (Seiriol the Fair).

In his old age, Seiriol retired to Ynys Lannog, subsequently became known as Ynys Seiriol, but today known as Puffin Island.

Farewell from Catherine

It is always hard leaving somewhere. There are all sorts of threads which need unwinding and unknitting, all sorts of roots needing pulling up. And even more so in a place where I have felt so welcomed, supported and loved!

Curacy is known to be challenging on so many levels. It's a sad fact that around ¼ of curacies break down. And many more are just 'endured'. For me, it has been a challenge, but I still hold with what I keep saying to people: the right place, at the right time. I couldn't have asked for anything better for my curacy, being amongst all of you lovely people!

Could I have done it without being encouraged to make mistakes, to experiment and sometimes fail, to have a go at all the things that were new? No.

Could I have done it without the faithful witness of those I have had the privilege of worshipping with and walking alongside? No.

Could I have done it without the loving kindness and selfless giving which I have found in people here? No.

I had a reflect on the 'highlights' of my time here and, to be honest, it is hard to choose from amongst all of the lovely moments. But if you pushed me, I'd say the Merton Nativity surrounded by the Tree Festival, hiding tiny sheep round Petrockstowe, developing a new Celtic Communion service for Newton St. Petrock and the summer Holiday Clubs at Shebbear.

I recall the joy of standing at the altar presiding at communion for the first time. I recall the tears of sorrow and empathy at funerals, and the tears of joy at weddings. I recall the tiny hands at baptisms and the wizened hands of West Heanton residents receiving communion. I recall the staff meetings over dinner then by the fireside sharing ideas for what next. I recall those times when others have led prayers and I've been sat with tears of silent prayer running down my cheeks. And I recall the solid support of both Martin and Julie as I have gotten used to the idea of being ordained.

So many memories which I will carry with me as I head off to Anglesey in a couple of weeks...

And so I pray for you all as I journey onwards- for our churches, our communities, our schools and all of the people. I pray that you continue to walk gently and faithfully with each other as you reflect together on what next. And I pray that you continue to be the faithful witness to God in this place - truly showing the heart of God in the heart of the community.

Many blessings and much love, Catherine.

Blessed to bless.

The Sermon on the Mount: Living the life of God.

Lent 2026

This Lent, go deeper into the life of God found in Jesus.
Here is Matthew's manual for a disciple of Christ.
The Sermon on the Mount is what it looks like to be a Christian.
Will you follow further this Lent?

The Gospel of Matthew is our gospel for this year. At its heart is The Sermon on the Mount (chapters 5-7), Jesus' guidance to those who have chosen to follow him.

In chapter 4, Jesus has encountered the devil. There he has been tempted with the seductive ways of the world. It's not that bread and safety and power are inherently evil. Rather it's when they occupy the central place of our lives, then they turn us away from God and his blessing. It is tempting to make sure that we are provided for; it is tempting to dwell in the glow of popularity; it is tempting to use the power we have for own purposes. But Jesus says 'no' to these ways ruling his life. He turns rather to the ways of the Kingdom of heaven/God. And he invites those who follow him to do the same. It's the way of being blessed. It's the way of blessing those around us.

So this Lent, embrace yet more the way of blessing.

- Read the chapters 5-7 afresh. (Maybe a different translation. Try The Message, if you haven't before.)
- Reflect on the Sunday input. If you haven't got a service one week, join one elsewhere. Come to the Ash Wednesday service.
- Use the booklet to help you go further.
- Join a group to hear others' insights. If there isn't one at a convenient time, ask whether we could set one up for Lent.
- Find a friend and talk it through together.

This Lent:

Be Blessed that we might bless

STOWFORD YOUTH CAMP

This year at Merton

Series 5

The Chosen: Last Supper
from Palm Sunday to Maundy Thursday

Each episode is about 1hr.

If you haven't seen any of The Chosen before, you have missed a treat.

Realistic, human, thought-provoking.

Not so much the story of Jesus, although that is there, as that of the chosen, those around Jesus and how the presence of Jesus might have impacted their lives. The Chosen takes us behind the stories of the Bible into the lives of those who met Jesus. Come and see.

For your Prayers

- Pray for Huish. There are two baptisms at Huish this month. Pray for those being baptised and their families
- Pray for Catherine as she moves to Anglesey/ Ynys Môn and as she begins her ministry there on the 25th.
- As we enter into Lent, pray that we would more fully enter into the life that is blessed.
- Ask God about how you will use Lent this year.
- One of the temptations of Jesus is the misuse of power. Pray for the leaders of the nations in their exercise of the power given to them.
