Eco Pause for thought

Flog your old techno-junk – old TV remotes, instruction manuals, mobile phone boxes

With the pace technology moves at these days, most of us have old boxes, cables, remote controls and so on stuffed in drawers or packed away in lofts, despite it being unlikely they'll ever be of use again. Yet you can avoid chucking them into landfill and instead find them a new home while at the same time earning some extra cash, by selling these 'tech leftovers' online via sites such as eBay, Facebook or Gumtree.
