Axe Valley Mission Community welcomes the Reverend Teresa Cornish

It's such a joy to join you all!

I grew up in Plymouth and recently returned after 20 years away. I became a Christian as a child thanks to the influence of Pentecostal parents and a lively Brethren Sunday School ministry; perhaps right from the start God has been preparing me for the breadth of the Anglican communion!

I went to university and became a teacher. My journey to work would take me past an Anglican church and I felt a persistent nudge of the Holy Spirit to explore it. It took me a while to pluck up the courage! But the decision likely changed my life.

From this time onward God gradually dismantled the excuses and barriers to a vocational call I had been hearing from others since my teens but had never truly believed in for myself. Still, it would take a good 20 years!

When I returned to Plymouth in 2017 I quickly got involved in St Matts, North Hill and went on to serve in just about every capacity possible. During this time the question of a vocation became more and more persistent. And I finally submitted to the process. It has felt like a home coming in a way.

A few bits about me:

I love a good bit of cake and to work it off outside with a walk or a swim.
I talk to myself and I like to see things grow - people and plants!
I'm sure we will have plenty of opportunities to get to know each other.
