All Welcome

Another holy family?

The last week of July is stuffed with notable saints' days. Before we move on to August's saints, I'd like to reflect on the little family from Bethany who clearly occupied a special place in Jesus' heart and whose quiet presence reveals much about his relationships with his friends. Mary, Martha and Lazarus were very different characters but each was dear to Jesus; Martha, the forthright activist, prepared to speak her mind, Mary, the contemplative, who sat quietly at Jesus' feet absorbing his teaching and Lazarus who is entirely silent, but whose death reduced Jesus to tears, recorded in the shortest verse in the Gospels; 'Jesus wept'.

In this little group of siblings, we have examples of our own 'church family' types. Some of our Christian brothers and sisters are activist and happy to speak out; others are quiet, listening attentively to Our Lord's voice and responding briefly and gently; still others are almost invisible because, although they are part of the family, they rarely speak. In our church families, this group of people may include those who lack confidence or who are elderly, frail or very young. Some studies have suggested that Lazarus may have had a disability which would have made it difficult for him to join in with activities and conversations and from my experience, I have found this explanation helpful.

Whether we have grown up with siblings or not, many people nowadays find that they are increasingly separated from their natural families and their Church family becomes increasingly important to them. Children nowadays are growing up in much smaller family groups than generations past and they, together with their parents, who are often living far away from their own parents, need to feel welcome as full and valued members of our churches, whether they come to church often or seldom. And all of us might need to remind ourselves from time to time that whatever we're like; bossy, timid or absent, we are all loved by Jesus!

TRINITY 10

On Tuesday 11th August the church commemorates Clare of Assisi (1253) the founder of the Poor Clares. Hearing Francis of Assisi preach during Lent, she felt called to a life of Gospel simplicity. Below is a poem or sonnet which reflects her sense of awe and wonder before God in its utter simplicity.

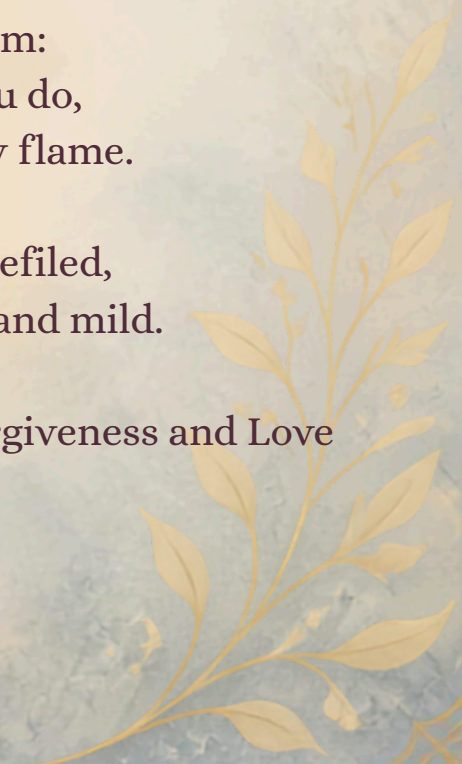

Gaze on the Light that gentles every fear,
and let His quiet radiance shape your sight;
consider Love that draws your spirit near,
a flame that warms the long and restless night.

Contemplate Christ, the mirror of your soul,
where poverty becomes a shining grace;
His mercy is the fire that makes you whole,
His tenderness the calm of every place.

Then imitate the path Clare's footsteps knew—
a life made simple by a single aim:
to hold the Lord in everything you do,
and bear His brightness as your only flame.

So walk with Clare, in stillness undefiled,
and find in Him the heart made pure and mild.

Praying for each other in the Spirit of Unity, Forgiveness and Love

SATURDAY 12TH SEPTEMBER

55 Alvingham, St Adelwald

Two churches in one churchyard, not unique, but unusual. St Adelwald's for Alvingham and St Mary's for North Cuckeringham. St Mary's is a redundant church, but open with monuments to a 14th century knight, with a lion at his feet. St Mary's was the chapel for the Gilbertine Alvingham Priory and is on the Gilbertine soil. St Gilbert founded the Gilbertine Order, where he founded a double monastery of canons regular and nuns, an order for both men and women. There is a priory area in Lincoln Cathedral with a collection of large crosses known as the 'Gilbertine Choir' representing Gilbert and the Order's women and men.

The Church and Belleau are a beautiful spot to visit and rich in history. St Henry Vane and his wife Frances professed to live here than at their properties at both Barnard and Raby Castle. Frances died when faced to face. Belleau for the part played by the Henry during the Civil War. The Church is much loved by visitors who sit quietly inside and enjoy the peace and bird song. Perhaps Henry Vane thought of this as his last rest before he went to Tower Hill, asking his resurrection wryly 'his last rest not to be lost the better on his neck' before the axe fell.

In its grade II listed setting, blessed with abundant woods and water, it has been the heart of Christian witness in the area through the centuries. The earliest parts of today's stone-built church date to the 13th century; at that time it was only nave, south aisle and chancel, with the tower being added in the 15th century, and finally the Victorian carried out extensive refurbishments and introduced the north aisle, organ and vestry.

Jesus held out his hand and saved Peter from sinking into the lake. Our hands help other people too. Inside this hand write or draw some of the ways you can use your hands to help.
