| 11. | Service of Memories Sunday 25th October and 1st November at 3pm in St Thomas à Becket: If you would like to come to one of these services & remember someone who has died, please let the Parish Office know & give the name of those you wish to remember. All welcome.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 12. | Halloween: This year we are aiming to bring some light into the darkness. Do join us! By getting out on the streets - giving out hot chocolate & goodie bags. But we also want as many households as possible to join in with Window of Hope (see the Streets of Light website https://www.streetsoflight.co.uk/ ). To get involved all you need to do is to decorate one (or more!) windows of your house, flat or workplace, &amp; then leave the lights on from 5.30 to 9.00pm between Monday 26th October &amp; Sunday 1st November, so people can see your fantastic displays. Let's see Emsworth transformed. Thanks so much Jacqui Watson. |
| 13. | Delivery of Christmas Cards: Help is needed on Tuesday 17th November at 2pm to collate the Christmas cards for distribution to the volunteer deliverers. Also there will be a list at the back of both churches of some roads not yet covered. Usually, each                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
