ECO CHURCH
AN A ROCHA UK PROJECT

Eco Tip of the week

After Halloween, the UK throws out around 8 million pumpkins!

1. For You - The most obvious way to ensure that your pumpkin does not go to waste is simply to eat it. If your pumpkin is still in good condition, the flesh and seeds are great to eat. The seeds can easily be roasted then added to vegetables or salads, whilst the flesh is great in pumpkin bread, pie and soup.

2. For Nature - Left over pumpkins can also be fantastic for wildlife. The carved pumpkin itself can be used to make a snack-o-lantern filled with bird food and hung from a tree whilst the seeds can be dried and added to your bird feed. Mammals are also a fan of pumpkin so you could cut up the remaining pumpkin flesh and leave it out for squirrels, deer, foxes, hedgehogs and badgers to enjoy.
