

Benefice of St Nicholas Newport and St Michael and All Angels Chetwynd

Newsletter 18/10/26

Musings

Sunday 18th October is the feast day of St Luke. Generally, he is credited with writing both the Gospel according to St Luke and the Acts of the Apostles. Parts 1 and 2 of the same letter. And together these 2 books make up about a quarter of the New Testament and are the only books in the New Testament to have been written by a non-Jew. We are told that the Greek in which they are written shows Luke to have been a highly educated man and St Paul tells us that he was a doctor. Luke tells us that he did not meet Jesus during his earthly life but that he has spoken to many people who did so that he could write a true account. Perhaps today we would think of him as an investigative journalist! It is only in St Luke's Gospel that we read about the Annunciation and about Bethlehem and the stable and the shepherds. And what would Christmas be without the Nativity Play?

St Luke is believed to have been born in Antioch and it was probably there that he met St Paul and was converted to Christianity. Luke became a travelling companion of Paul even accompanying him on that final journey to Rome.

We are grateful to all the Gospel writers for the accounts they have given us of the life of Jesus. From these stories we learn about the remarkable earthly life of our Saviour. The Son of God who became human, who even went to an horrific death so that through his resurrection our sins might be forgiven and we will live for eternity with him. We thank God for these writings which have come down to us today so that, day by day, we may learn more and worship him more.
