Matthew 5:1-12

5 Now when Jesus saw the crowds, he went up on a mountainside and sat down. His disciples came to him, [2] and he began to teach them.

He said:

[3] "Blessed are the poor in spirit,
for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
[4] Blessed are those who mourn,
for they will be comforted.
[5] Blessed are the meek,
for they will inherit the earth.
[6] Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness,
for they will be filled.
[7] Blessed are the merciful,
for they will be shown mercy.
[8] Blessed are the pure in heart,
for they will see God.
[9] Blessed are the peacemakers,
for they will be called children of God.
[10] Blessed are those who are persecuted because of righteousness,
for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
[11] "Blessed are you when people insult you, persecute you and falsely say all kinds of evil against you because of me. [12] Rejoice and be glad, because great is your reward in heaven, for in the same way they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

All Saints Day

We remember the most notable Christians throughout the ages by allocating particular dates to their memory, but the Feast of All Saints is a day to remember the whole Church across time and space. We honour the example of the early saints while rejoicing in our continued communion with them through our own membership and participation in the body of Christ.

The celebration of the saints dates to the early centuries of the Church, to its period of persecution under the pagan Roman Empire. For a church beleaguered with extreme persecution, such a time of remembrance of those who faithfully professed Christ, even to torture and death, must have been a great encouragement!

Today, many Christian traditions worldwide celebrate All Saints' Day.

The rebuilding of the tomb is going well but as with all things the foundation is the slowest step! The planning permission time is up next week so please pray that we will hear something from them with good news.
