Reflection

The roots of the word Evangelist come from the Greek euangelion, meaning "good news" or "gospel" (eu meaning "good" and angelos meaning "messenger") So an evangelist is a messenger who shares the Good News of Jesus Christ.

Luke was such a messenger; the two books in the Bible which are attributed to him, the Gospel of Luke and the Acts of the Apostles, make up 28% of the New Testament.

When Luke recounts Jesus' sending out of the seventy-two, he bases his story on the eye witness account of those who were there. He was not an apostle himself but he has carefully recorded in detail what others have told him. Yet his purpose was not only to produce an historical document but to share with others the Good News that Jesus is the Saviour for whom the Jews had been waiting and that this news is for the people of the whole world. No matter what hardships they may encounter, and as a travelling companion of Paul he was fully aware of these, those who are sent out are to be faithful to their task.

I believe we are all called to be evangelists by being the people God has intended us to be. He has given each one of us gifts and abilities which we can use in our daily lives to reflect the Good News of Jesus Christ in many different ways. We may not stand on street corners or write a long tome of witness but we can reveal Jesus in how we live and interact with those around us.

With blessings

Debbie

Collect—The special prayer for the day

God, our light and our salvation:
illuminate our lives, that we may see your goodness in the land of the living, and looking on your beauty may be changed into the likeness of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

1st Reading: Isaiah 35.3–6

Strengthen the weak hands, and make firm the feeble knees.
Say to those who are of a fearful heart,
‘Be strong, do not fear!
Here is your God.
He will come with vengeance, with terrible recompense.
He will come and save you.’

Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened,
and the ears of the deaf unstopped;
then the lame shall leap like a deer, and the tongue of the speechless sing for joy.
For waters shall break forth in the wilderness,
and streams in the desert;

2nd Reading: 2 Timothy 4.5–17

As for you, always be sober, endure suffering, do the work of an evangelist, carry out your ministry fully.

As for me, I am already being poured out as a libation, and the time of my departure has come. I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. From now on there is reserved for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will give to me on that day, and not only to me but also to all who have longed for his appearing.

Do your best to come to me soon, for Demas, in love with this present world, has deserted me and gone to Thessalonica; Crescens has gone to Galatia, Titus to Dalmatia. Only Luke is with me. Get Mark and bring him with you, for he is useful in my ministry. I have sent Tychicus to Ephesus. When you come, bring the cloak that I left with Carpus at Troas, also the books, and above all the parchments. Alexander the coppersmith did me great harm; the Lord will pay him back for his deeds.
You also must beware of him, for he strongly opposed our message.

At my first defence no one came to my support, but all deserted me.
May it not be counted against them!
But the Lord stood by me and gave me strength, so that through me the message might be fully proclaimed and all the Gentiles might hear it. So I was rescued from the lion’s mouth.

Gospel: Luke 10.1–9

Glory to you, O Lord

After this the Lord appointed seventy others and sent them on ahead of him in pairs to every town and place where he himself intended to go. He said to them, ‘The harvest is plentiful, but the labourers are few; therefore ask the Lord of the harvest to send out labourers into his harvest. Go on your way. See, I am sending you out like lambs into the midst of wolves. Carry no purse, no bag, no sandals; and greet no one on the road. Whatever house you enter, first say, “Peace to this house!” And if anyone is there who shares in peace, your peace will rest on that person; but if not, it will return to you. Remain in the same house, eating and drinking whatever they provide, for the labourer deserves to be paid. Do not move about from house to house. Whenever you enter a town and its people welcome you, eat what is set before you; cure the sick who are there, and say to them, “The kingdom of God has come near to you.”

Praise to you, O Christ

Post Communion

God our Father, whose Son, the light unfailing, has come from heaven to deliver the world

from the darkness of ignorance: let these holy mysteries open the eyes of our understanding that we may know the way of life, and walk in it without stumbling; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen
