Eco Tip of the week

Leave 'Single-Use' Behind

1. Bring Your Own Containers - When you head to the supermarket, farmers market or wherever you buy your food, consider taking your own reusable containers with you as well. Use them to buy your food without the single use plastic packaging or bag. So you can head over to the unpackaged food, or ask for some over the counter from the grocer. You can also use your reusable containers when going to your local take away to avoid using the single use containers.

2. Get 'Plogging' - Plogging refers to a Swedish craze where you pick up rubbish whilst on a jog. The word is a mix of jogging (obviously) and the Swedish word plocka which means to pick. Not only does this activity help to clean up local environments, it is also a great way to improve the physical benefits of an average jog by adding in additional stretches, bending and arm strength.
