CLERGY THOUGHTS

Remember, Remember…
"The wise man must remember that while he is a descendant of the past, he is a parent of the future." Herbert Spencer

November starts as being a month of remembering.

It commences with the celebration of All Saints – we have lived and shared the story of Jesus for eleven months, and now we begin to draw it all together as we celebrate that we are the ones in this age to live Christ for the world in all that we are.

This is closely followed by All Souls, as we remember with affection all those who have gone before us and shown us and encouraged us along the paths of Christian living.

This is followed a few days later by the poignant, and very necessary, reflection and remembering of all those who have lost their lives in service to their nation.

The month then picks up its other mantle in being known as the Kingdom Season, as we move towards the climax of the Jesus story – especially thematically rich in this year's Matthew's Gospel - as Jesus assumes his destined station at the right hand of his Father as Christ the King, of the Kingdom of God 'on earth as in heaven'. The end of the journey that was seeded in the promise of the Messiah, revealed in a crib, crucified on a cross, and crowned in heaven.

Remembering is the opposite of dismembering! And so, in this month we take time to draw together and re-assemble all that Jesus has done and is doing in our lives, and throughout each year building a deeper and richer understanding of our faith in him, making us stronger and wiser, in our love, following and commitment, as we realise more and more the work of his Spirit in and through us.

Discipleship is never static and is a journey never completed, but the cycle of the year's celebration that concludes in November, provides the starting point to turn the seasons again to enrich, teach, encourage and inspire us all in the life and walk of faith into which Jesus has invited us.

It is a reflective month in which we can look back, thankfully for many reasons, but it will hopefully strengthen us in parenting/shaping the future, in ways in which the love of Christ and his kingship can shine and flourish through us for the love of his world.

I hope you will all be able to join us at the end of the month at the Advent Sunday Benefice Service (29th November, Christ Church, Totland Bay, 11.00am) when together we restart the annual cycle, with the celebration of the promise of a Messiah, a Saviour to the world, and the coming of the Prince of Peace - and seek his Spirit to make His life in us real to his precious world. To help us parent a brighter more peace-filled future, in the worlds in which we live and move.

The clocks have changed, the evenings are darker, curtains close sooner, nights seem darker, do look out for the lonely and isolated amongst us, for whom these are often very difficult months.

In Christ

Mark

OTHER NEWS FROM IN AND AROUND THE WEST WIGHT BENEFICE

FAREWELL TO JACKIE - On Sunday 25th October we said farewell to Jackie as she presided over her last service here in the West Wight Benefice, as Team Rector. There were tears but there was also plenty of joy and hope and love and laughter in the hymns and preaching and prayers and the chatter before and after the service.

Singing was accompanied by the 'West Wight Fifth Sunday Band' conducted by Mark. Thank you to those band members and singers who come along earlier in the morning to practice at these joyous benefice wide services. Thank you to Jane and Charlotte and Mark, who together with Jackie, offered an inspiring service of Holy Communion and thank you Brighstone, St Mary's for post service refreshments and to the bell ringers for their quarter peal of celebration.

In advance of the service, so many of Jackies friends and colleagues from across the benefice contributed to a remarkable collection. A stunning piece of work from Yarmouth Gallery – a ceramic lamp created by local ceramicist Dennis Fairweather – was presented at the service, as a tangible benefice wide gift, which will hopefully remind Jackie and David of their time with us here in West Wight. A wonderful financial balance will also be transferred to Jackie for use as she sees fit.

Jackie brought so much to West Wight - and I know that those who got to know her, work with her and who joined her on her journey here, will miss her.

We enter a very different period now in West Wight. The legal framework under which the Benefice has operated since 2018 is to be suspended and we'll enter a period of interim arrangements with Reverend Mark moving to a full-time role of Team Vicar, with oversight for all our parishes and from January the Reverends Chalotte and Jane will both become resident in West Wight, as full-time curates as they continue their ministry training.

These interim arrangements will helpfully provide a period of stability in terms of ongoing ministry for the parishes. During this time, in consultation with Archdeacon Barry Dugmore and the Area Dean Chris Bradish, the PCCs and church communities will have a chance to determine what the long-term future should look like. There is still much work to be done … (JB)

CURATES' CORNER

Let us offer one another a sign of His Peace

I have realised that there is something rather wonderful, and even a little challenging, in Jesus' instructions to his disciples to offer peace wherever they go, and if that peace is not welcomed, to let it return to them (Luke 10:5–6). We can easily overlook this detail. The 'peace of the Lord' comes back to me.

Christ's peace is not something one imposes upon another, nor is it ours to take personally when it is not received. We are simply called to offer it, freely and generously, and leave the rest to God.

During my healthcare chaplaincy training six years ago, I learnt about the importance of walking without shoes. Not literally all the time, of course, but as a way of being: slowing down, becoming more aware of the ground beneath our feet, and noticing what is around us. My mentors Janet and Neil would ask, 'Charlotte, where are you rushing to?' as I strode along the hospital corridor hurrying into nothing!

Those of us who walk along our local shingle beaches will know that you cannot hurry over the stones barefoot! We have to pay attention to each careful step, onlookers probably see something from Monty Python's ministry of funny walks! But I realised that, in my own chaplaincy placement, I was still very much in nurse-go-go-go mode, carrying the familiar instinct to get things done, to act and to help. But chaplaincy asked something different of me. It asks one to pause, to notice, and to truly see the person in front of us, without rushing to fix anything, and of course this approach is not exclusive to chaplaincy. It is for us all.

So, I wonder whether this has something to teach us about the peace we share in church, too. When we turn to one another and offer the sign of peace, can it sometimes become a little automatic? Do I make eye contact and am I really present to the person standing before me, or am I already thinking about who comes next? The Hebrew word shalom coins this expression perfectly. It speaks of wholeness, wellbeing, harmony and right relationship. To offer someone Christ's peace is to wish them something of that deep, restoring wholeness that God longs for each of us.

Perhaps next time we share the peace, we might slow down, look one another in the eye, and offer it with our whole selves. And if it is not returned, we can let it go in love, trusting that the peace of Christ remains with us. After all, we cannot make someone receive peace, but we can make sure that what we offer is genuine. So, on this note, 'May the peace of the LORD be always with you'.

CELTIC ENCOUNTER AUTUMN LANDSCAPES RETREAT DAY

A review - Autumn Landscapes Retreat – Finding God in the Quiet

On 15 October, 29 people gathered at Shalfleet Village Hall for a peaceful day of reflection inspired by the autumn landscapes of night sky, orchards and fields, and what they might teach us about God and our relationship with him.

There was time to be still, to listen, to walk, to be creative and to share fellowship. Reflections touched on the importance of putting down deep roots in Christ, allowing the Holy Spirit to nurture the fruits of love, joy and peace, and finding the courage to let go of the past and trust God with what lies ahead. One participant spoke of the joy of simply having space to breathe, while another valued the quiet moments of listening to God. The day concluded with Holy Communion, when the thoughts and prayers gathered throughout the day were offered to God.

As the priest who led the Communion, I was particularly struck by the gift of taking time out. In the creation story, humanity is made on the sixth day, and on the seventh day God rests. How wonderful to think that God's rest is shared with humanity! Perhaps rest is not simply about stopping because we are tired, but about making space to be with God, to receive his love and to remember that we are more than all the things we do. In the beauty of the autumn landscape, we were reminded that God is present in the stillness as well as in the busyness of life. May we each find moments to pause, breathe and rest in his presence.

What a wonderful 'quiet day' at Shalfleet Parish Hall – with time for peace, reflection and fellowship.
