Wired to the Moon

Dear Friends,
'Come ye thankful people come' - the opening line of one of our much loved harvest hymns. Sadly, due to Covid 19 restrictions at this harvest, we are unable to sing the words of that hymn or indeed any hymn. We cannot even hear our precious choir sing an anthem. Whilst choirs are now allowed to sing if the risks are assessed and do not present a breach of Covid 19 guidance, the wardens and myself, with great reluctance, have concluded it would breach the risk assessment upon which we based the decision to open for worship. I really do miss the opportunity to sing God's praise and how I miss the enrichment of worship provided the choir. We continue to review the decision and be assured when we believe it safe for the choir to return to minister among us, we will do so.

Despite being unable to sing God's praise to offer our thanks for his bountiful goodness at this Harvest time, we can in our hearts and minds offer thanks and praise 'for all good gifts around us are sent from heaven above, then thank the Lord O thank the Lord for all His love' This harvest time will be the first since Eileen Banister passed to glory. Eileen brought much to the service. Joan Hopcraft and the team have assumed the joy and privilege of decorating the church this year and we thank them all for their efforts.

The produce you have so generously donated is to be shared between the foodbanks administered by the Salvation Army, Blackburn and St. James' Over Darwen.

Harvest is a time when we can thank God for those who farm and tend the land. Farming is a vocation and the skills and hardwork of those who dedicate their lives (and those of their families) to care for the God given land – who 'plough the fields and scatter the good seed on the land' and tend animals are evident all around and within our beautiful parish.

Harvest is also a time when we can remember that we are but stewards of his creation and that we have a responsibility to pass unspoiled the gifts of creation on to future generations.

This Harvest celebration will have been different in some ways yet, what does not and should never change are our thankful hearts to our creator God.

With a thankful heart,

Thank you Janet and welcome Donna and Diane

Paperwork and administration are not my strong points. For several years, Janet Clegg provided excellent support to me by administering weddings and baptisms. Ensuring all parties were kept informed and making sure I had the right information at the right time. In September Janet advised me that due to pressing work and family commitments she wished to retire from the role and I have thanked her for all the support she has given.

I am pleased to say Donna Peat has offered to carry out the Wedding Administrator role and Diane Kenyon, the Baptism Administrator role. This at a time when the number of weddings and baptism have slowed due to Covid 19 restrictions. However, those that are taking place need very careful coordination. I know Donna and Diane will continue the work and I thank them for volunteering.

In this season of thanksgiving I wish to acknowledge with a grateful heart, all who continue to contribute to the life and ministry here at St James'.

I will not list names - you know who you are! However, may I, on your behalf thank our team of wardens and vergers and those who support them. They have taken on significant additional duties since Covid 19 arrived. Their wisdom patience and guiding have been of immeasurable help to me and therefore the parish.

Harvest Readings

And those who are peacemakers will plant seeds of peace and reap a harvest of righteousness. James 3:18

Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house. Test me in this," says the LORD Almighty, "and see if I will not throw open the floodgates of heaven and pour out so much blessing that there will not be room enough to store it. Malachi 3:10

A Tale of Two Places by Sam Nichol

About this time last year, after many years of resisting, if not rebelling against, a fairly insistent voice in my ear, I applied for licensed ministry and since then it has been a whirlwind process starting with a long conversation with Rev. Nick McKee, the Director of Vocations for Blackburn Diocese, then Bishop Philip and then it really picked up pace with discussions, via Zoom, with a vocational adviser and then an assistant director of ordinations. During this last stage of meetings, I have been on placement to St James' Church, Over Darwen.

The purpose of the placement is to experience a different form of worship and a different place and congregation, not to take you out of your comfort zone for the sake of it, but to broaden your understanding of what church is and how God works in other places, how he engages with and works through people in a myriad of ways. At Brindle, St James' Church we have our traditions and we are what is classed as a growing church and one that has to balance the needs and expectations of people of all ages and who have either a previous and different experience of worship and those who have been coming to St James' for years, decades and in some cases all of their lives.

We had only just started coming back to church after the Coronavirus lockdown when I started my four-week placement in St James Darwen. I don't know if I chose it or it chose me, but last year I did some work for the National Estate Churches Network and met some wonderful priests and lay people who had planted new churches or were continuing to develop churches and leaders in some of the most deprived housing estates in the country. There was an energy, perhaps you could call it a 'fizz' about them which I was interested in learning more about and my placement was a great opportunity to observe it at first hand virtually on my doorstep.

St James' Church, Over Darwen is currently closed as the roof needs a significant amount of investment to fix.. The incumbent and his curate, look after three parishes and St James' Over Darwen on a day to day basis is cared for by Rob who is their outreach worker and has recently commenced his training for ordination. Rob is aided by his wife, his two sons and the other members of the parish family. Rob is a young man full of energy, he is definitely one half of a great partnership and Suzie his wife not only shares his faith, but very ably supports his ministry.

When Rob explained that I would be spending my Saturday mornings in front of an empty shop unit, where they organised a foodbank and where outdoor worship took place, I was not too sure what to expect. I approached my first morning with some trepidation and I was praying all the way. I need not have worried. I was welcomed warmly, although it was clear everyone was on their best behaviour. After two songs about Jesus with dance actions and a rousing sermon from Rob it was funny but the barriers went down and despite the wearing of masks and the fact, we were stood on the street in front of a Chinese chippy we all had one thing in common, God and our belief in Jesus as his Son and our Saviour.

It has been a real privilege to join in the Saturday mornings and also the Sunday worship on Zoom. Although it could not have been more different than Brindle St James. The music, the liturgy, the prayers are modern, loud and Rob preaches with gusto and uses great props. His explanation of sin and even the use of the word itself is an enduring memory. The silence after he talked about his own sins and his journey to forgiveness through Jesus rendered the whole estate silent it was so moving.

I can honestly say that I have seen the Holy Spirit at work on that road every Saturday, when people of all ages from many nations and backgrounds arrive at the foodbank, their joy at the gifts of food is wonderful to behold. It is not the tin of beans, or the Fray Bentos pie (other brands are available) but it is the fact that someone cares, that they are acknowledged, but not judged. Whether they are old or young, alone or a family we are all equal, both in the sight of God, and in front of the shop unit in Darwen.

The connection made through the giving and receiving of food by the two churches is a true illustration of God at work in the world. His grace and blessings directed through ordinary human beings who are moved to share what they have with others, expecting nothing in return is powerful.

The whole journey of discernment so far has been one of personal discovery and a deepening of my relationship with Jesus and my understanding of God. This has been a combination of the discussions and homework with the advisers and the help of my spiritual director. The realisation of the sacred privilege of being an ordained priest has been dawning with the help of the patience and tolerance of David and everyone at Brindle as I lead services and preach. My time with the good folk of St James, Over Darwen then has enabled me to think about my ministry and my calling, quite a gift to come away with.

Rob and all the team there wanted me to pass on their thanks for the gifts of food that we have been able to provide and I hope will continue to do so for the foreseeable future, both to them and the Salvation Army. It is a sadness that in this day and age people are reliant on foodbanks in order not to go hungry and have to make the choice between a roof over their heads or food for their children.

I have been humbled by the experience, but filled with joy and hope too. Whatever the final outcome of the process for me I will forever reap the benefits of it, not least seeing the scriptures come alive in this tale of two places.

"This is how we know what love is: Jesus Christ laid down his life for us. And we ought to lay down our lives for our brothers and sisters. If anyone has material possessions and sees a brother or sister in need but has no pity on them, how can the love of God be in that person? Dear children, let us not love with words or speech but with actions and in truth." John 3:16-18

News from Brindle St James' Primary School

Little Cuckoos - Autumn is here; the leaves are changing colour, conkers are falling from the tree in the Church yard and the farmers have been hard at work gathering in the crops that have grown over the summer. We call this 'harvest time' and in Church we have a harvest festival, where we give thanks to God for all the good things he gives us. Harvest reminds us how lucky we are and that we should share what we have with people who may not have enough. People bring tins and jars and packets of food into Church during harvest festival, so that it can be given to those who need it.

But did you know our Church family are not the only people who celebrate harvest festival?

In south India, Hindus call their harvest festival 'Pongal'. This photo shows people celebrating Pongal by gathering together to cook a special sweet rice dish. The people also decorate their houses, go on picnics, dance and give presents to their families.

The Jewish harvest festival is called 'Sukkot'. During this festival, Jews remember how God protected and cared for their ancestors who had to camp in the desert for 40 years. Some Jews build a shelter called a Sukkah in their garden with their families, they eat meals and sometimes camp out in their Sukkah.

MONEY MATTERS

Thank you to everyone who is giving by standing order at the moment. It makes a massive difference now that the church is closed, as we have lost the way to receive gifts by envelopes or cash in the collection plate.

Brindle St, James' church bills have only reduced marginally. As a church, Brindle St James relies wholly on donations to operate and provide care and support in the community.

We want to continue and indeed do more, strengthened by the knowledge of our love and fellowship for each other and the love our Lord has for us. We are asking, for the benefit of your church, that everyone considers giving by bank transfer. And if possible, increase giving to sustain our church's mission and ministry at the end of this health crisis.

Thank you.

CHANGES TO BIN COLLECTION DAY

Most of the area is changing bin collection day from Friday to TUESDAY. Check your bin collection dates online at: www.Chorley.gov.uk/bins or www.Chorley.gov.uk/bins. Note that this does not include some rural areas, such as Top O'The Lane where collections will be unchanged.

SCAMS

There are many reports of telephone scams about TV subscription services where people are told by an automated voice that they have to make a payment to renew their subscription. If this happens to you, you will be asked to press a number on your telephone keypad in order to be put through to an operator to make payment. These operators can be very convincing! If you have a TV subscription, check the company's website for advice on how to deal with any suspicious contact that you receive.

Be aware of a scam aimed at self-employed individuals and freelancers. Scammers are sending text messages suggesting eligibility for a tax refund. A link in the text takes you to a very realistic web page. The site calculates a fake refund amount and then asks for bank details and also passport details for verification purposes. HMRC will never send a text like this that links to a website that requires highly confidential information.

If you think you may have been scammed, contact Action Fraud on 0300 123 2014 or go to www.actionfraud.police.uk. You can also contact the Trading Standards Service via the Citizens Advice Consumer Helpline on 0808 223 1133.

OUR LANCASHIRE

Brindle Parish Council has joined the Our Lancashire network of local organisations.

There is a post this month advertising the Chorley Hearing Voices and Paranoia Group. This is a Group for people who experience hallucinations - hear voices or have sensations or visions that others do not. Do you hold beliefs that leave you isolated or distressed? Perhaps you or others think you are paranoid or delusional? If so this group is for you. There are details at: www.ourlancashire.org.uk/?post\_type=groups&p=10191.

TIME TO GET ON YER BIKE!

'Switch to Cycling' is a new campaign from Lancashire County Council aiming to build on the momentum of those of you who have started cycling during lockdown and encourage more people to take up cycling for short journeys. It promotes the benefits of cycling including fitness, saving money and beating the traffic as well as providing advice and information on starting cycling, cycling routes and free training sessions.

Now is an ideal time to start cycling with the school run started up again and more cars on the road. The county council has put in a range of measures including temporary pop up cycle lanes throughout the county to help people get around by bike. Find out more by following the campaign on social media, and get involved by posting your own cycling selfies using the hashtag #SwitchToCycling. For more information and advice about making the switch to cycling, visit
