TTEC logo - the story

There has been a discussion about a logo for our churches for some years. I found these drawings (by Teresa Warren, Fremington).

This particularly caught my eye:

Over time Teresa and I worked on the design until we arrived at this. What does it mean?

- There are three faces, representing the three congregations of the mission community.
- The colours symbolise the yellow of the Instow beach sands, the green of the Westleigh fields and the blue of the Fremington quay waters (echoed in the lines below)
- Each figure holds up arms to embrace one other
- This also forms a heart shape
- At the centre of our community is the cross
