

Barrow and Wolds Group November Diary

Reflection of the Season

This month we stand in the quiet space between memory and hope as we remember the names and faces of those who walked before us — some known to us by love, others known only by history.

On Remembrance Sunday, we honour those who laid down their lives in the service of peace. Their courage was not without cost, and their absence still echoes in the lives of families, communities, and nations. We remember not to glorify war, but to cherish peace — to guard it as a fragile, precious gift.

On All Souls' Day, we hold in our hearts all who have gone before us — parents, friends, neighbours, strangers, each a light that once shone in this world. We give thanks for their lives, their love, and the ways they shaped us, even in small and unseen moments.
