Weekly News sheets : Sun 25th -1st Feb. 3rd in Epiphany

We welcome you to our church this week, it's lovely to have you with us .

Our thanks go to those who have helped set up our churches and are involved in leading worship

We remember before God all those in our communities who are vulnerable or struggling : the elderly; the isolated and lonely; single parents; those who are ill or depressed, the stressed and anxious; the poor and needy; those facing financial pressures; those grieving the loss of a loved one. We pray that they may know God's presence with them and be comforted.

As the winter brings with it the Flu and an increase in viruses we remember before God all those on our Island who are suffering at this time. We give thanks for all those who work in the National Health Service; the amazing work they do, the responsibility they carry, their caring and compassion, their helping and healing, those who work long hours and yet still have the strength to continually support and nurture others. We pray for God's blessing to be upon them, upon their work and their ministry of healing.

During the Season of Epiphany we focus on the transformation that Christ offers to the entire world, to all people of all nations. We pray that where we are seeing erratic diplomacy and leadership and an absence of moral norms within the Western world, the leaders of our nations will be guided by God's truth, integrity and wisdom that unites understanding, vision and justice for the good and safe keeping of the whole of humanity.

We pray for those in our world where sheer survival is their priority : for the 645,000 people who have been affected by the heavy rains in Mozambique over the last two weeks, resulting in severe flooding. We give thanks for the response of the local churches who are bringing about transformation by opening their buildings as refuge centres for displaced people, gathering food donations from non-affected areas of the country, and directing rescue teams to those most in need of assistance.

Todays Readings

Isaiah 9.1–4
1 Corinthians 1.10–18

Psalm 27.1, 4–12***
Matthew 4.12–23

A Great Light!

It's been long, wet, windy, winter in a dark and troubled world. It's too easy for us to walk with our heads down, single focused, as if carrying the weight of the world on our shoulders. In our teaching today we are reminded that we are invited to be one with the Source of all Love, the Source of all Light. He that was commissioned to bring Light into the Darkness, calls Us to be His Disciples.

Thoughts to ponder .....

Faith is stepping off the map of what's known and making a new road by walking into the unknown. It's responding to God's call to adventure, stepping out on a quest for goodness, trusting that the status quo isn't as good as it gets, believing a promise that a better life is possible.

Brian McLaren

We need to give Christ a chance to make use of us, to be His word and His work, to share His food and His clothing in the world today. If we do not radiate the light of Christ around us, the sense of the darkness that prevails in the world will increase. We need to find God, and he cannot be found in noise and restlessness. God is the friend of Silence. See how nature, trees, flowers, grass grow in silence. Is not our mission to give God to those we walk with? Not a dead God, but a living Loving God. The more we receive in silent prayer, the more we can give in active life. The essential thing is not what we say, but what God says to us and through us.

Mother Teresa

Father Richard Rhor reflects on what it means to respond to God's call :

It is not an enviable position, this Christian thing.

Following Jesus is a vocation to share the fate of God for the Life of the world. To allow what, for some reason, God allows - and uses. And to suffer ever so slightly what God suffers eternally. Often this has to do with believing the right things about God - beyond the fact that God is Love itself. Those who respond to the call and agree to carry and love what God loves – which is both the good and the bad – and to pray the price for its reconciliation within themselves, these are the followers of Jesus Christ. They are the leaven, the salt, the remnant, the mustard seed that God uses to transform the world. The cross, then, is a very dramatic image of what it takes to be useable to God. It does not mean that they are going to heaven and others are not; rather, it means they have entered into heaven much earlier and can thus see things now in a transcendent, whole, and healing way. Saints are those who wake up while in this world, instead of waiting for the next one. Francis of Assisi, William Wilberforce, Therese of Lisieux and Harriet Tubman didn't feel superior to anyone else; they just knew they had been let in on a big divine secret and they wanted to do their part in revealing it. God is calling every one and everything , not just a few chosen ones, to God's self. ( Gen 8 15-17. Ephesians 1:9-10. Colossians 1:15-20 )
