Black History Month

October is Black History Month, which offers our church community a time to reflect on our shared Christian calling to global justice and compassion. On July 30th the Church commemorates the anti-slavery work of William Wilberforce, who is remembered proudly by our nation for this work, but he was very far from alone in his endeavours. On the same day we remember his contemporary Olaudah Equiano, who was enslaved before winning his freedom and Thomas Clarkson, a tireless campaigner, researcher and lobbyist for the cause.

All three men worked for the abolition of the slave trade in Britain, which was passed into law in 1807, under the terms of which it was against the law for any British ship or British subject to trade in enslaved people. However, Wilberforce and Equiano had died before plantation slavery in British colonies was finally abolished in 1838, when slave owners were compensated for freeing their slaves, but, shockingly, the slaves themselves received nothing. Former slaves and their descendants were subject to strict vagrancy laws, wages often below subsistence level for those who were taken on by their former owners and largely denied political power.

We can each wrestle with how we respond to the injustice meted out by our forebears. But it's important that we as a wider Church live out our calling to global justice and compassion. So, I thought it would be helpful to give a little information on Project Spire, which some may have read about in The Times and other media, not all of which have reflected the full purpose of the project or given accurate information on where the money will come from.

Project Spire

Project Spire is a long-term investment fund established by the Church Commissioners. It follows a 2023 research audit revealing that a historic endowment fund, Queen Anne's Bounty, heavily invested in the South Sea Company and received donations from figures connected to the slave trade. The fund aims to support communities affected by the legacy of slavery through economic, educational, and health investments where access to finance is heavily restricted, particularly within lower-income regions across the Global South.

Rather than a one-off handout, it functions as a sustainable investment model aimed at long-term community development with any financial returns generated by the fund directly reinvested into local grants and initiatives supporting those same underserved communities. It represents one of the few direct mechanisms the Church of England utilizes to support vulnerable populations facing systemic poverty abroad.

Some critics argue that the fund is too large and that it is beyond the remit of the Church Commissioners. However, when we weigh national church expenditure against the Anglican Communion's Five Marks of Mission, projects like Spire align closely with our foundational priorities.

- Seeking Justice: Responding to structural economic inequality where finance is scarce.
- Showing Compassion: Standing in solidarity with our global neighbours experiencing poverty.
- Stewardship: The financial sums involved are relatively small compared to the total resources managed by the Church Commissioners, making it a modest yet targeted tool for good.

In any diverse church family, national initiatives can prompt differing views on how central funds ought to be allocated. Not every national initiative will directly benefit every church member or parish. However, the Church seeks to serve a wide range of needs and priorities, and there are many within the Church for whom projects such as Spire are of considerable importance.

There have been complaints that the project will divert money intended for parish use. These are unfounded. This funding commitment will be sourced in its entirety from the Endowment Fund managed by the Church Commissioners. None of the money given to a parish church will be used for this fund. None of the money will come from parish income.

There are also complaints that the historical links are miscalculated. These firmly rebutted by the Church Commissioners. For more information about this and answers to other questions you may have please go to: <https://www.churchofengland.org/about/governance/national-church-institutions/church-commissioners-england/who-we-are/historic-links-enslavement/frequently-asked-questions>.

It's important for us as Church and for our nation to grapple with our history, to consider together how we respond to it. It's not good enough to simply point out that other cultures and countries also traded in slavery, that African slaves' own rulers traded them. That doesn't make the injustice go away. Each nation is responsible for reckoning with its own history. We bear collective responsibility before God for the consequences of the actions of our forebears, irrespective of what other nations do or have done.

'Our calling to confront historic injustice and our commitment to sustaining parish life both flow from the same Gospel imperative: to love our neighbour as ourselves and to enable all to flourish.' Archbishop of Canterbury.

As part of our celebrations, we will be collecting non-perishable food items at both churches in support of Derby Food 4 Thought. Donations can be brought before the services or on the day itself, and will be collected by Derby Food 4 Thought the following week.

We are also delighted that Curzon School will once again be joining us in marking Harvest and supporting this important local work. Thank you in advance for your kindness and generosity.

Title: All Age Worship

What is happening?

Last June St Matthew's and St Edmund's launched our All Age services. The planning team includes people from both churches, we plan and write each service together and then deliver it twice – once at each church, by the team members from that church. Our services follow a simple structure: Gathering: we remind ourselves why we're here and who God is, we make ourselves right with God through confession; Growing: we remind ourselves of where the overarching story is up to, then are introduced to today's story. We might act it out or watch a short film and will then reflect on it together with short talk and an activity; Going: we think about what we've learned this morning and what we'll take away with us to do about it.

We are working through the Bible to understand it as God's big story of rescue which culminated in Jesus. Last year we explored Genesis and how God called Abraham (and Sarah) to found a nation through whom God would bless the whole world. This year we're in Exodus, finding out how God rescued his people from Egypt and seeing how the story foreshadows Jesus and what he did for us.

Title: Breakfast Church

Last September, at St Nick's we launched 1st Sunday Breakfast Church. The morning follows four stages: Welcome (sharing breakfast and conversation), Gather (exploring the monthly theme), Respond (through interactive prayer, quiet reflection, all age activities, or Bible study), and Send (gathering to encourage one another to love God, each other, and our community throughout the week).

So far, we have explored the Lord's Prayer and the Fruit of the Spirit, with the Creed our current theme.

Please pray for:

- All age worship across the four parishes
- That we would be church in a way that connects across generations
- For the links between families, schools and church as we seek to nurture faith and discipleship
- For families to hear about and join the services and encounter the good news of Jesus

Jigsaw and Upbeat community - prayer partners

This month we are asking for your prayers for two of St Nick's chosen charities; Jigsaw and Upbeat Community. The Jigsaw team have shared their aims with St Nick's this year when they joined us for Sunday worship and we are arranging for Tim and the team to come in again to update us on their work. Upbeat Community have shared the below message with a request for prayer. Please join us in praying for these two important charities. God bless them and all the work they are doing.

Dear Sarah and all at St Nick's Allestree,

Thank you for your continued support and prayers for Upbeat Communities, and the people we serve. We are particularly grateful for your partnership in a continually challenging landscape.

We would be grateful if you could continue to pray over the following areas.

1. Refugee homelessness

A couple of months ago, we shared that refugee homelessness has reached a devastating high in the city of Derby. We need the Church to pray for solutions. At Upbeat, we run a couple of projects providing emergency accommodation in both voluntary and paid capacities. We urgently need more hosts to join us in offering a safe place to stay for refugees. Could you help us spread the word?

Upbeatcommunities.org/hosting

2. Finances

The financial landscape across the UK and the world right now is really tough. We would love it if you could pray for God's provision as Upbeat seeks to continue meeting the needs of refugees in our city through our projects. In particular, please pray for success with a number of significant Trust and Foundation funding applications that have recently been submitted, wisdom as we develop new funding opportunities, and for the resources needed to sustain and grow projects such as our Integration Hub.

3. Big Give

Linked to the above, we're excited to share that we will once again be taking part in the Big Give Christmas Challenge this year! Last year, we raised over £25,000 through the Big Give to support our projects for much of 2026. This year, we need to raise £28,000 to keep up with increasing needs.

If you haven't yet decided on a charity to support as a church this Christmas season, we would love you to consider supporting Upbeat at a time of such hostility towards refugees. One way to do this is to book us to visit your church between October-December, both to share about our work, and to invite members of your congregation to partner with us in the Big Give.

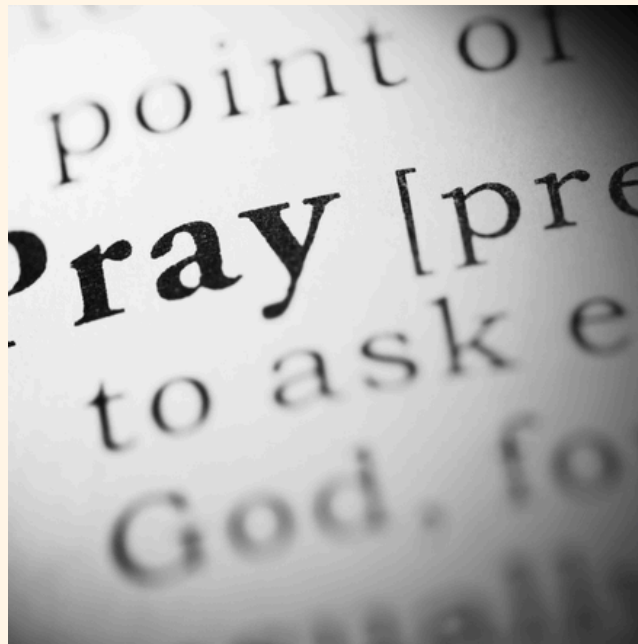

Lastly, here is a message from Maddie Thomson, our Community Engagement Manager who many of you will know:

"Hi everyone. I wanted to let you know that I will sadly be moving on from Upbeat Communities in August, to join the team at Hope into Action UK. I wanted to thank you for your prayerful support of Upbeat Communities over the 6 years I have been part of this team. It has been a privilege to work with you to demonstrate Jesus' love, compassion, and practical support to people seeking refuge in Derby."

With thanks for all your support,

Pastoral Care and Volunteers

Clare has been a valued pastoral link at St Nick's, offering support, encouragement and prayer to many members of our congregation. As she steps back from this role, we would like to thank her for the care, empathy and dedication she has shown to others throughout her time in the role.

Are you going through a difficult time at the moment and would like some emotional, spiritual or physical help?

For various understandable reasons, many people find it difficult to reach out and ask for help but if you are aware of anyone who is struggling at the moment, please let us know. It could include for example, help with shopping, a home visit or merely a friendly chat on the phone. If we don't know, then it's difficult to help.

We are part of your church family and have been DBS checked and have completed the Diocesan Safe Guarding Training.

Would you like to help out at the very successful Play n Praise which is for preschoolers and their adults @ St Nicks on a Wednesday morning (term time only).

We are looking to set up a team of volunteers on a rota. You would not be required every week, but every 4-6 weeks.

If you would like to know more, why not pop along on a Wednesday 9.30-11am and meet the current team and families who attend? Coffee and cake available.

LAY MINISTRY CONFERENCE - Cliff College, Calver, Derbyshire. Saturday, 12th
September, 2026 - 9.00 - 4.30 pm

After registration, we were welcomed by Ben Martin and members of the Derby Diocesan Team. Followed by opening worship.

The keynote speaker was Bishop Sophie Jelley who is the Diocesan Bishop of Coventry and holds the role of national episcopal lead for Lay Ministries across the Church of England. She arrived on the platform in a blue trouser suit later taking off her jacket to show a purple T-shirt with the words "I Love Laity"!

The 5 key aspects she spoke about are that we should all have: -

- 1) Love for God
- 2) Love for People
- 3) Love for Church
- 4) Love for life and
- 5) Love for the foreseeable (the near future) - to always have 'hope'.

This is where you come in! We were encouraged to think of doing something, for one month, each day. Mine is to go out and look for something different that I did not notice the day before, recording them and thanking God. What will yours be?

Bishop Sophie very importantly reminded us that God calls us as God's people to a range of roles, places and relationships and no call is superior to another. Every Christian is called by God, equipped with gifts for the building up of common life and commissioned for the service of Christ through baptism.

There were various activities available including; an update from the Diocesan Safeguarding team, workshops and you could visit the Prayer Room.

Generous Faith

During breaks we had opportunities to network, and it was clear the event had brought together people from all walks of life within the Church.

I attended 'Neurodiverse Church' led by John Allister who is a vicar of 14 years and who is also autistic. It was an invaluable workshop to attend giving insight into autism. He has written a book 'Faith, Hope and Autism: Learning to Love Neurodiversity'. He advised using the acronym below when we meet people:

F E E L

- 1) F To be Flexible
- 2) E To have Empathy
- 3) E How we Empower
- 4) L How we Lead

The day ended with a closing Eucharist led by Ven Emma Sykes, Archdeacon of East Derbyshire.

Ben Martin and his team were thanked for all their work for this day. It was a brilliant and very useful Conference, very well organised and very successful. It was well worth me attending and I learnt a lot! I certainly recommend you attend the next one.

Sarah Tupling

Ministry Team Update

As many of you will know, following Matthew Tricks 's appointment as Dean of Guernsey, he has stepped down from his role as Archdeacon of Derby and South Derbyshire. During the vacancy, Bishop Jackie has asked Revd Sarah to serve as Acting Archdeacon, dividing her time between parish ministry and archdeaconry responsibilities.

Sarah's usual working pattern will be:

- Parish ministry: Wednesday and Sunday
- Archdeaconry ministry: Tuesday and Thursday
- Monday and Friday: Flexible, according to parish and diocesan commitments

Bishop Jackie has expressed her sincere thanks to the parishes for their support during this time.

We are blessed with dedicated clergy, lay leaders and volunteers across our churches. While we each have different roles and callings, parish ministry is ultimately about all God's people playing their part within the Body of Christ. We are therefore both grateful and confident that, as we continue to seek Christ together, our churches will continue to grow and flourish.
