Dear Friends,

Following our lovely parish outing recently to the Bishop's Palace in Wells, during which the Palace Chaplain treated us to a prayer walk around the grounds, I was drawn to the following piece which resonates with much of what we reflected upon during the prayer walk. Centre for Action and Contemplation teacher, Brian McLaren, writes this:

"The Spirit leads us downward. To the bottom, to the place of humility, to the position and posture of service . . . that's where the Spirit, like water, flows. . .

If you listen to the Spirit, here is what will happen to you :

- You'll be at a party and you'll notice on one side of the room all the beautiful people laughing and having fun together. In a far corner, you'll notice a person who is alone, feeling awkward, not knowing anyone. The Spirit will draw you to the person in need. You may become the bridge that connects the outsider to the insiders—and in that connection, both will be better off. . . .
- You will realize that someone is angry at you or resentful toward you . . . or worked behind your back to do you harm. Everything in you will want you to write them off or get them back. But the Spirit will draw you toward them in humility. . . .
- You will see a person or a group being vilified or scapegoated. Everyone is blaming them, shaming them, gossiping about them, feeling superior to them, venting their anxieties on them. . . . But the Spirit will draw you to differ courageously and graciously. . . . You will risk your reputation in defending the person or people being scapegoated. And in that risk, both you and they will know that God's Spirit is alive and at work in your midst.
- If you listen to the Spirit, you will be drawn toward an opportunity to serve. When you let the Spirit guide you, it will be a source of great joy—one of the richest blessings of your life."

Rev. Will
