Scripture Readings in The Lyddington Benefice

With the single exception of the 8.30am Book of Common Prayer service held at Lyddington on the 2nd Sunday, readings in our churches are those set out in the Revised Common Lectionary (RCL). The RCL is international and ecumenical, though individual Churches may make alterations, as the Church of England does. The RCL is based on a three-year cycle; each year focuses on one of the synoptic Gospels.

Year A: The Gospel according to St Matthew

Year B: The Gospel according to St Mark

Year C: The Gospel according to St Luke

The Gospel according to St John is used across all three years, most notably during the Christmas and Easter seasons. St John is used more often in Year B because of the relatively shorter length of St Mark's Gospel.

For each Sunday and principal Holy Day, the RCL provides the following:

Old Testament reading

Psalm

New Testament reading

Gospel reading

Details of the readings are printed in that order.

During Ordinary Time, that is those Sundays which fall outside the major seasons of the Church, there are two 'tracks' of Old Testament readings. Track 1 provides a semi-continuous reading of specific books of the Old Testament and these do not directly relate to the Gospel reading. Track 2 selects passages which do relate to the Gospel reading of the day. This benefice uses Track 2 and that is what is published in the Newsletter and in the yearly lectionary booklet.

The New Testament reading is usually from one of the Epistles.

From Easter Day to Pentecost a reading from the Acts of the Apostles is used.

The preferred translation is the New Revised Standard Version. No bible translation is liked by every person, in every circumstance. However, NRSV is generally accepted as a good and accurate translation. This is the version used on the pew sheets.

The Readings are usually used in the following way:-

Said Holy Communion:

New Testament read by a member of the congregation or by the priest

Gospel read by the priest

Holy Communion with hymns/Parish Communion

Old Testament read by a member of the congregation (This may be omitted for Family Communion)

New Testament read by a member of the congregation

Gospel read by the priest (or sometimes by a Licensed Lay Minister/Reader acting as Liturgical Deacon).

Morning and Evening Prayer

Old Testament read by a member of the congregation

Gospel read by a member of the congregation

The psalm is also used during these services and is read as directed by the person leading the service

Family Service

Gospel read by a member of the congregation

The readings for the month are published in The Newsletter. This also gives the liturgical colours in use for each Sunday – this is helpful to those who set up the altar for Holy Communion and in those churches which have a full set of altar frontals and hangings.

Beginning and ending the readings

In services from Common Worship it is sufficient to begin by saying "A reading from the book of the prophet.../ from the Letter of .../ from the Gospel of"

At the end the reader says ‘This is the word of the Lord’ to which the response is “Thanks be to God.” The announcement and ending for the Gospel reading at Holy Communion is usually set out in the service booklets.

In services from The Book of Common Prayer it is usual to begin in the way set out in the Prayer Book. At the end “Here endeth the Epistle/ the First Lesson/ the second Lesson, as appropriate. There is no congregational response.

A copy of the The Lyddington Benefice Lectionary booklet, which runs from Advent Sunday each year, is placed in each vestry and is also distributed to people who lead worship and arrange readers. They are produced towards the end of November and are freely available to anyone who would like one.

Notes:

Paschal Candle

The Paschal (Easter) Candle is lit on Easter Day and at every service up to and including Pentecost (Whitsunday). It is then moved to stand near the font for the rest of the year.

It is also lit at every Baptism, Funeral and Memorial Service. It is also used on Remembrance Sunday.

Advent Candles

The Advent Wreath has four candles in a ring around a white or gold candle. The outer candles may be white, red, purple or three purple and one pink; in this case the pink candle is lit on the third Sunday of Advent, traditionally known as Gaudete. The first candle is lit on Advent Sunday; additional ones are lit, one on each Sunday, and the white or gold one on Christmas Day. All five candles may appropriately be alight during services through the Christmas season.

There are several traditions about the meaning or theme of each candle. The scheme that accords best with the current Lectionary is:

Advent 1	The Patriarchs
Advent 2	The Prophets
Advent 3	John the Baptist
Advent 4	The Blessed Virgin Mary
Christmas Day	The Christ

Each of the four Sundays then reminds us of those who prepared for the coming of Christ. 'The Patriarchs' can naturally focus on Abraham, our father in faith, and David, Jesus' ancestor in whose city he was born. 'The Prophets' gives an opportunity to reflect on the way the birth of the Messiah was 'foretold'. John, who proclaimed the Saviour, and Mary, who bore him in her womb, complete the picture. The prayers used when lighting the candles reflect these themes.

Crib/ Nativity Scene

Since the introduction of Common Worship, which established a Christmas season which extends to Candlemas, 2nd February, it has been customary to leave the Christmas Crib/Nativity scene in place until this date. At least it means the wise men don't appear and disappear all in the one day!
