Are you Ready?

As we age do you find that time goes quicker or slower? It seemed to me that up until recently the years sped by but over the past few they seem to have slowed down. Whether this is anything to do with retirement or just that I am getting nearer to another big number birthday I don't know. And yet as we go through each year there are milestones that we remember and celebrate like anniversaries, birthdays, marriages and even the memories of those who have died, and they all seem to come round much quicker every year.

Many years ago, in 2007 to be exact, those in ministry here in Highley were given a laminated card which showed the dates of Ash Wednesday, Easter day, Ascension, Pentecost and the first Sunday of Advent up to the year 2030. It shows that Easter, for example, falls any time between the 27th of March and 24th of April. So last year Advent ended on the 23rd of December and Lent begins this year on the 22nd of February, so just over 8 weeks between the two periods of preparation and reflection before significant Christian celebrations. It seems that in no time at all we will be commemorating the death and resurrection of Christ.

For much of the society we live in today Christmas is the most important reason to celebrate a Christian festival - for all the parties and presents; then Easter because firstly, it's spring and secondly, there are Easter eggs and bunnies to buy. It seems that the whole reason for the frivolities has dimmed in the nation's memory. Certainly, this is the case when Advent and Lent are considered. OK, there are those who give up chocolate or some other luxury during Lent but the real reason for this is to enable us to focus and reflect on Jesus as the gift from God, for the fact that he was born in Bethlehem and then gave his life at Calvary for us all; this being a far greater gift to us than the ones given in December.

Traditionally Lent is a time of fasting, (not just to lose weight), praying, and repenting, in other words spending quality time with God, taking advantage of a time to let the world do its own thing. Christ reminded his disciples that they shouldn't look gloomy when they fasted, (Matthew 6:16) so this is the example for us. Prayer is the way Christ conversed with his Father in the garden at Gethsemane during the most testing time of his ministry. Repentance is the chance to seek God's forgiveness for the things we have done wrong or failed to do, both those known and forgotten. Lent isn't a time to make us feel good about ourselves but rather one of sharing in a small way the suffering of Christ.

So, going back to the beginning and the question, "Are you ready?" - if you are asked this on the 23rd of December, it normally means 'Have you bought your turkey and all your presents?'. For us during Lent it means 'Are we ready to share in Christ's suffering but then also the joy of the promises he made to all those who commit their lives to him and celebrate his resurrection at Easter'.

Winnie the Pooh and Lent 2026

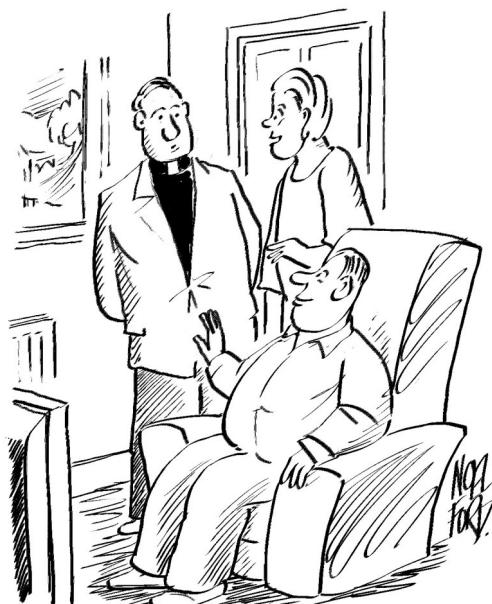

Remember the Winnie the Pooh stories? And Kanga's insistence on Baby Roo's taking his Strengthening Medicine? It's 'really quite a nice taste when you get used to it', she explained, although I'm not convinced Baby Roo always agreed.

It can be helpful to think of Lent as a sort of medicine; an opportunity to strengthen us in the things that are good, rein in other facets of our personality and reset the compass to the true North of following Jesus. A Spring-clean of the soul, if you like.

Baby Roo (and Piglet on the one occasion he was subject to it) found Strengthening Medicine not to their liking, and we may groan inwardly at the thought of 'giving up something for Lent'. Think of what lies behind this 'giving up'. It's so that we may be strengthened, our character refined, our prejudices examined, our junk thrown overboard, and we may come to Easter more fit to walk the way of the Cross and rise in new life with Jesus at His Resurrection.

Nor is Lent just a case of giving up chocolate. One year I gave up Facebook for Lent, having spent far too much time scrolling through it each day. It freed me to do other, more constructive things. And instead of giving up, why not take up something you've been meaning to do but never got round to; something life-affirming, something good for God.

Lent begins on Ash Wednesday, which this year falls on 18th February. Many Christians indicate publicly their intention to take Lent seriously by being 'ashed' - the sign of the Cross made on the forehead in a mixture of ash and holy oil at a special service that day. Having been ashed, the intention of the 40 days of Lent is to maintain a steady course closer to God, symbolised by the giving up of something - maybe chocolate or alcohol, or even social media or watching TV - which has a hold on us or takes up a lot of our free time, money or energy. We walk with Jesus on the way to the Cross, mindful of the 'riches of God's kindness, forbearance and patience' as St Paul has it, and mindful too of Jesus' choice of the Cross as a way for us to enter those riches more fully. And to face the immensity of that sacrifice and the immensity of God's riches made available to us in Jesus, we need all the Strengthening Medicine we can get!

Henry is making a real effort for Lent – he's giving up the remote control and walking to the TV

St Mary's Highley

Sad news.

The Rev'd Rose Lawley died peacefully just after 9am on Sunday 11th January. Rose was a retired priest who came to live in Highley after her retirement. Rose came from the Black Country and did a number of jobs before answering the call to ministry. She was ordained in Lichfield Cathedral in 2003, initially as a non-stipendiary priest. After serving her curacy, she ministered in Kidderminster, eventually moving into full-time ministry as a parish priest and industrial chaplain. She was much loved and respected in Kidderminster and was made an honorary Canon of Worcester Cathedral in 2015. She was also a chaplain to the Royal British Legion, a service that gave her great satisfaction.

On retirement she and husband John moved to Highley, much to the delight of the Benefice who benefitted from her ministry. She helped our incumbent, Rev'd Mike Harris, as secretary to the PCC in Highley. After Mike's retirement, both myself and the Revd Val Smith were extremely grateful for the help and leadership she provided as we managed without an incumbent. She chaired Chelmarsh PCC and played a very significant role in guiding Highley PCC, as well as leading services. She retained her role at Chelmarsh after the arrival of our current incumbent, the Rev'd Kina Robertshaw.

Sadly Rose's ministry was cut short by motor neuron disease. Towards the end of her illness, I had the privilege of bringing her Holy Communion and keeping her informed of all that was happening in the benefice. Even at the very last communion I gave her, just a few days before she died, it was clear how pleased she was to see me. Perhaps she did not realise that she was ministering to me just as much as I was ministering to her.

Rest in peace, Rose, and rise in glory!

David Poyner, Assistant Curate, Severn Valley Benefice

Chelmarsh News

The Christmas services at Chelmarsh were well attended. On Saturday 14th December, at a crib service led by Glenys Williams and Sheila Bebb. We had seventeen people attend. Glenys and Sheila invited the children to view the nativity set whilst explaining the events that it shows. The next evening was the main village carol service. Seventy five people came to enjoy a traditional service of carols and Bible readings, with mulled wine and mince pies afterwards. Finally the midnight service on Christmas Eve attracted thirty five communicants.

The final 100 Club Draw of the year took place after the midnight service. The results are below:

|---------|--------------|------|---------|---------------------|-----|--|
| No. 102 | Terry Kenny | £100 | | | | |
| No. 80 | Bill Yeomans | £50 | | | | |
| No. 23 | John Roberts | £25 | No. 120 | Cathy Gill | £25 | |
| No. 22 | Mary Lee | £25 | No. 115 | Jess Maiden - Billy | £25 | |

This year the 100 Club has raised over £900 for the church. This is much needed income, as we have had to do safety work on tower and on trees in the churchyard. I will write more about the tower work next month; suffice it to say, it is now safe to walk under it again! We have been able to claim some of the costs of this back in grants, but we cannot do this for work to make the trees in the churchyard safe, which has run into several thousand pounds, so we much appreciate all those who support us financially.

Chelmarsh sadly lost one of our oldest inhabitants before Christmas, Avis Link from Woodcock Farm, Hampton Loade. Avis came from traditional yeoman stock and died shortly before her 90th birthday. We send condolences to daughter Anthea, grandson Robert and sister Sheila. After a cremation, a memorial service in Chelmarsh was attended by 65 people, where Robert and Anthea gave touching tributes. We left church to "Galloping Home" from Black Beauty and a blast on the hunting horn.

St Bartholomew's, Glazeley

As at our other services in the benefice, the Christmas showing at Glazeley was excellent, with 45 people attending our service on Sunday 21st December. This set a new record in recent times. The church was prepared a few days before when the loyal helpers were rewarded with Damson brandy and mince pies, as well as an impromptu recital of carols on the organ. Sadly, Rachael our organist on the occasion was ill for the service itself; the congregation coped resourcefully with music played over my computer. The assembled congregation much appreciated the new heating system installed in the church back in September. The service itself combined carols, Bible readings and Holy Communion. The quality of the wine attracted especial comment, but I feel it my duty to remind people that the service took place in Advent, which is a penitential season. After the service we were invited for refreshments at the Old Rectory by Laura and Andrew; a couple of glasses of mulled wine washed the taste of the communion away... After the service the Christmas Tree was donated to a local care home.

St Mary's, Billingsley

Over Christmas we had two services at Billingsley. On Friday 19th we had our evening carol service. The church was beautifully decorated; I particularly liked the candle-lit path, which was also extremely useful in helping us find our way out after the service. We had a mixture of carols, Bible readings and poems, followed by mulled wine, mince pies and cake/biscuits. We had 25 people in the church, which was a very good turnout.

On Christmas Day we had a communion service at 10am. This again followed the format of carols and readings, with a brief celebration of communion. After the service, the congregation were treated to a celebratory Quality Street chocolate as an aperitif before heading off for Christmas Dinner. This time we had 17 worshippers; another very good congregation.

Compared to previous years, both services were made much more comfortable by the new under-pew heating that was recently installed. I am optimistic that in January, February and March, the glacier that normally greets me at the altar at the 8am communion service may have retreated and I no longer have to worry about losing fingers to frostbite.

For next year, we are looking at ways we might be able to attract more families with children to our services; Christmas is not just for adults...

Outside of services, at the end of November we were visited by Alex and his volunteers from Caring for God's Acre, to give the churchyard its late autumn trim. They much appreciated the Welsh Cakes provided by Ellen, as did your roving correspondent. In the spring we want to do some maintenance on the benches in the churchyard and ensure they are put in the best positions for visitors.

Looking ahead, we are also planning speakers and themes for the evening services, which take place from April to September. For June we have booked a speaker from the Shropshire Historic Churches Trust, who have helped us and Glazeley with the new heating. We are also gathering material, especially photographs for a local history exhibition. If anyone has old photos of Billingsley and would allow us to copy them, please contact me (David Poyner).

The regular monthly breakfasts, at 9am at The Down, continue to go well, particularly as a way of bringing people together. All are welcome, whether a church-goer or not; the aim is to allow people to meet and talk to each other. Please contact myself (David Poyner), Sheila Millington (Chetton) or Marion Corfield (01746 764585, marion.corfield@talktalk.net) if you would like to come. The cost is £8 per person.

Whilst the church is open, we now are using wooden candle holders. The brass candle holders have recently been repaired by Lawrence Archer, whose skills with a soldering iron are much appreciated. When all the candles are lit, the effect is quite spectacular!

As I write, we have just had the first heavy snowfall of the year. Many thanks to all our local farmers and contractors who have been busy clearing the roads.

Historically, the Church of England has had its share of eccentric clergy. Even nowadays, hiding away in remote parishes, there are still some colourful clergy about. Clergy such as the elderly, Anglo-Catholic Uncle Eustace, who is incumbent in the small parish of St James-the-Least-of All, somewhere in Very Rural England. Eustace despairs of his nephew, Darren, who has become an Evangelical curate in a busy urban parish... and so he writes letters, to try and properly 'educate' Darren in parish life.

My dear Darren,

On the Art of Drinking Well

You closed your last letter with the remark that it was time to retire to bed with a cup of cocoa. That may be all very well for the pious nature of a theological college - although a stiff whisky was always acceptable in my day - but it is not a style to continue once in the parish. I do feel obliged to give you a few hints about what should and should not be drunk in public as a parish priest.

Morning visits are to be discouraged, but if one is unavoidable, and you are invited to have a drink, then it has to be coffee. It is the only time of day when a mug is acceptable - provided, of course, that it is bone china or porcelain. In the afternoons one changes to tea, but only from cups. Blended varieties may be all very well for curates in their first year, but it should be Darjeeling for an incumbent. Fruit teas are for Quakers only.

If an inappropriate vessel is offered, then the drink should be accepted, but left untouched. Since the visit will be discussed in the finest detail throughout the parish the moment you have left, your host will soon learn why and not make the same error a second time. It is for the same reason that if you ever want to circulate a piece of news round the parish quickly, never put it in the parish magazine, just mention it casually during one of your visits. Everyone will know by teatime.

Alcoholic drinks must be carefully judged. A sherry - dry, naturally - is probably best if you are invited to lunch. In the early evening, a gin and tonic would be the drink of choice. To ask for whisky would indicate that you are about to go over to Rome, and a mineral water that you have your roots in non-conformity. Beer is never, ever drunk in someone's house unless you suffer from some personal tragedy, such as being the diocesan youth chaplain.

However, an occasional beer in the pub with the bell-ringers (who will be real ale fanatics to a man) or after choir practice - which seems to be the real purpose of holding practices anyway - or as a treat for the sacristan, will show you are a man of the people. It is some years since I visited the pub.

Understanding wine should be taught at every theological college as an essential part of the ministry. Develop a taste for claret, dear boy, and you will be starting your journey towards high office.

And perhaps you should give that tin of cocoa to the verger.

Your loving uncle,

Eustace

Letter from Westminster

On the last day of Parliament before Christmas, the Government published their Provisional Local Government Finance Settlement. I have been campaigning for more equitable funding, particularly due to concerns that the current settlement will result in higher council tax and reduced local services. As it stands, Shropshire Council is now set to face a significant reduction in government funding over the next three years, which will make it much more difficult to deliver basic services to residents. I was glad to have the opportunity to raise these concerns directly with Alison McGovern MP, Minister of State for Local Government and Homelessness. This is a principal priority of mine going into the new year, and I will keep piling on the pressure in Parliament to secure meaningful change.

My Shop Local campaign in 2025 saw nearly four and a half thousand constituents sharing their views on how to support our local high streets. I have listened to these views and laid out three campaigns that I believe will make a difference: I will be campaigning this year to secure free parking, to cut business costs, and to clean up our high streets. Working together with local community partners, I am excited to see what we can achieve. The recent changes to the Family Farm and Business Tax demonstrate what a difference it makes when the whole community gets behind one cause. In the Commons Chamber, I have thanked all the South Shropshire farmers and businesses for their tireless campaign and though more still needs to be done, I know from conversations with farmers across the constituency that the changes announced in December have come as a huge relief.

It is a great honour to serve as the UK's representative on the NATO-Ukraine Interparliamentary Council and through this role I am able to get a good idea of what needs to be done to bolster our national security. Our nation now faces multifaceted and serious threats, the likes of which have not been seen for decades. We are at a crossroads, where we can either continue down the path of decline in our armed forces or take the difficult decisions needed to ramp up spending and fund them in a way that responds appropriately to the nature of these threats. I have raised my serious concerns about committing to a deployment of UK troops in Ukraine if we do not have a clear strategy to fund and support our armed forces. I will be firing on all cylinders over the next few months to make sure MPs across the house are aware of the harsh reality of our current security situation. The changes that need to be made for the defence of the United Kingdom may be radical and, in some cases, unpopular in the short-term, but the outcome will be far worse if we simply refuse to confront them.

I have six priorities for South Shropshire in 2026. I will seek to unleash rural prosperity, which in practice will involve standing up for our high streets and campaigning for lower business rates. I will work to enhance public services alongside local partners, including raising support for our community hospitals. I will continue to champion our farmers. My work to support local communities will see me travelling across the constituency and fighting for our churches, village halls, leisure facilities, and post offices. I will protect our countryside against overdevelopment and continue working to improve water quality. Finally, I will invest in infrastructure, ensuring that our roads, transport networks, and community facilities get the funding they need. I and my team are going into 2026 with an ironclad commitment to my guiding principles - to listen, support, and deliver for all my constituents in South Shropshire.

Highley Parish Council

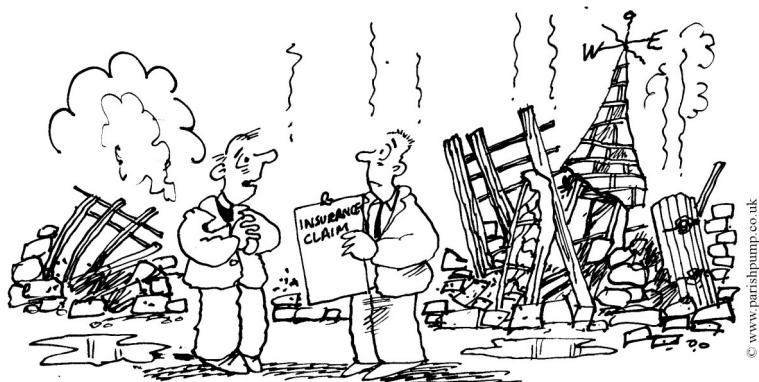

Following a fantastic Christmas and New Year it all felt a bit of a distant memory when Highley Parish Council convened for the first time in 2026 at the start of January. It was a relatively quiet meeting without too much to discuss but we did manage to successfully fill one of our two vacancies! I would like to warmly welcome Councillor Carly Whitehouse to the Parish Council. Carly is relatively new to Highley but she and her family have been involved in various aspects of village life including adopting the miner's wheel at the South end of the village and getting it looking lovely for Highley In Bloom.

As we enter a new year we have begun planning for something which will be with us before we know it - hanging baskets! Every year a significant amount of work goes on behind the scenes to arrange the purchase of the flowers for the hanging baskets, to get them put out to their various locations around the village and to ensure they stay watered throughout the summer season. Despite it feeling like summer is very far away we have already arranged everything we need to, so we can be sure the village will be looking its best when summer comes.

You may have seen in the news that Shropshire Council are looking to work more closely with Town and Parish Councils and we have been engaged in some productive discussions but we continue to find ourselves frustrated with a lot of processes, especially those related to road works and planning. We will continue to work with Shropshire Council to try and improve our working relationship including highlighting our frustrations to those at the top. We will see if it makes any difference but one thing I am certain of is we will continue to do our best for Highley and the people of Highley.

Working together for the people of Highley

Most of us think of Sir Francis Drake as an important explorer, who circumnavigated the world in 1577. This prayer shows us a different side to that famous name.

Disturb us, Lord

Disturb us, Lord, when we are too well pleased with ourselves,
When our dreams have come true
Because we have dreamed too little,
When we arrived safely
Because we sailed too close to the shore.

Disturb us, Lord, when
With the abundance of things we possess
We have lost our thirst
For the waters of life;
Having fallen in love with life,
We have ceased to dream of eternity
And in our efforts to build a new earth,

We have allowed our vision
Of the new Heaven to dim.

Disturb us, Lord, to dare more boldly,
To venture on wider seas
Where storms will show your mastery;
Where losing sight of land,
We shall find the stars.

We ask You to push back
The horizons of our hopes;
And to push into the future
In strength, courage, hope, and love.

Attributed to Sir Francis Drake, 16th Century

UCB Word for Today

Believe God for greater things

You do not have, because you do not ask. James 4:2

Some people think we're not supposed to ask God for too much; otherwise, it's selfish. But God wants you to ask. 'You do not have because you do not ask.' If you're not asking – then you're not releasing your faith. Jesus said, 'According to your faith be it unto you' (Matthew 9:29 KJV). You need to learn to pray bold prayers and expect and believe God for greater things. 'Ask of Me, and I will give You the nations for Your inheritance, and the ends of the earth for Your possession' (Psalm 2:8 NKJV). That's a bold prayer! But if God tells you to pray it, it's because He is willing to answer it.

You may have a dream in your heart but don't see how it could ever happen. Jesus fed five thousand people with five loaves of bread and two fish. He is a God of multiplication. He can multiply your time and help you to get more done. He can multiply your wisdom and help you to make better decisions. He can multiply your finances: 'May He who supplies seed to the sower... multiply the seed you have sown' (2 Corinthians 9:10 NKJV). Instead of being satisfied with merely surviving, God wants you to thrive.

A survival mentality will keep you from God's best. Shake it off and say, 'God, you promised that what was meant for my harm, you would use to my advantage (see Romans 8:28). I may have been through the fire, the famine, and the flood, but I know it's my time of favour. It's my time to see more of your goodness in my life.' Believe God for greater things.

Candlemas, 2nd February, comes exactly 40 days after Christmas. In New Testament times 40 days old was an important age for a baby boy: it was when they made their first 'public appearance'. Mary, like all good Jewish mothers, went to the Temple with Jesus, her first male child - to 'present Him to the Lord'. Thus, we have the Festival of the Presentation of Christ in the Temple (Luke 2: 22-40). So where does the Candlemas bit come in? Jesus is described in the New Testament as the Light of the World, and early Christians developed the tradition of lighting many candles in celebration of this day.

Highley Companions

Well Highley Companions met for our first session of 2026 and what a lovely time we all had.

It was so lovely to welcome everyone when they came in through the door. Lovely smiles from everyone and look forward to seeing those who are still under the weather with colds coming along next time. It was cold and misty outside but everyone was nice and toasty inside.

We had a lovely time sharing our Christmas memories of bygone years. I started off as I have vivid memories of my sister and I hanging our stockings up - not fancy ones, probably our dad's. We had nuts, orange, sweets and a penny as well as a little toy. Our dad used to pretend he was talking to Father Christmas up the chimney and answering himself. A highlight was going to see Father Christmas in Grey's store at Dudley. We didn't have a lot of money but mom and dad gave us love and what they could. We travelled on the bus to Dudley, but dad always biked and left his bike at my aunty's to save money.

As I went round with the microphone nearly everyone joined in and it was lovely to hear similar stories of not only joy for the children but the hardship some of their families faced, in order to give their little ones something special. One of our ladies shared how difficult it was for her family, especially in the war years, not only at Christmas but other times as well. A great time of sharing and we followed this with a sing song with our resident band.

We had a lovely lunch of jacket potatoes with various fillings and cake with a game of bingo in the afternoon and sang 'Happy Birthday' to Jack whilst he blew out the candle. Luckily we were all able to get home before the SNOW..... came.

Sustainable Highley

We can make Highley sustainable! Please email your ideas to our new email address: sustainablehighley@gmail.com. Any ideas please, that help us save energy, resources and protect the environment that we share!

Climate optimism - Alastair

If you listened to the news in 2025, it was easy to get disheartened by climate change sceptics spreading misinformation about our planet. Whilst there seem to be lots of negative environmental tipping points (the terrifying thresholds beyond which ecosystems collapse, like glaciers melting, corals dying, and rainforests being obliterated), there are plenty of positive tipping points too.

These are the moments when a sustainable technology or action becomes so affordable or popular that it kickstarts “irreversible, self-propelling change”, even when certain leaders and influencers discourage people from adopting them.

Electric car adoption is in this category in the UK.

In Pakistan, solar is booming – not because of climate pledges, or activist pressure, but because the grid has become unreliable and expensive.

Across the world, renewables have finally overtaken coal to become the world’s leading source of electricity. Clean energy is no longer just for rich nations. It is becoming a logical economic choice everywhere. Those that ignore this, will simply be left behind.

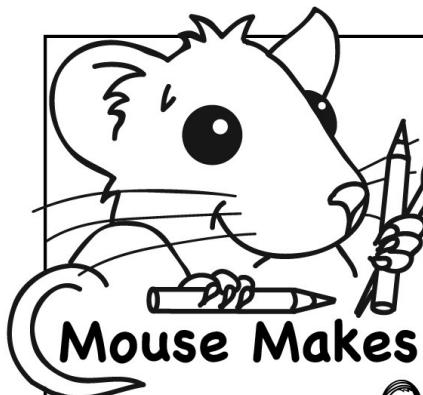

Water meter - Aidan

Last year during the drought, we tried to save as much water as possible, by using spare water from cups and saving the initial cold water that flows before the hot comes out. We are carrying on with this in the winter, and have applied for a free water meter. This should save us quite a bit of money each month, as we are very economical with our water use (short showers, water butts, measuring for boiling in the kettle). Why didn’t we do it before?!

This year I’m going to repair my own clothes! - Jo

There are so many items of clothing in my house that need the odd repair. A hole here, a rip there, a missing button etc. Often the damage begins as a very small hole, but because I can’t sew, the holes get bigger, almost so they are irreparable. This year, I’m going to do a few online tutorials to get better and make sure I don’t end up throwing anything away. If I think it’s too difficult for me, I’ll take it to my local repair cafe!

There is a community group that you may not know about. It's Art Therapy, held at Highley Parish Hall every Monday, 2pm until 4pm.

Now the usual response is that "I'm not artistic." You don't need to be artistic. Whether it's colouring, drawing, doodling or painting, anyone can have a go.

The idea is that you can focus on something for a couple of hours instead of the everyday stresses that nag at you. It's a wellness idea, an aspect of mindfulness, where you can relax in a friendly, safe environment and have a cup of tea or coffee. There's no judgement, if anything, there is encouragement from others. All the equipment is provided for you, but that doesn't mean that you can't bring a project from home if you want to.

We are a small friendly group, so why not give it go. Janis Rowe

'It was an inspired idea to create an art therapy group which is open to all, whatever their ability. The atmosphere is open and friendly, enabling everybody to enjoy a few hours of respite in a busy week' John & Anna Cliff

'I thoroughly enjoy going to art therapy every week. We do colouring or painting, have a chat and a laugh and support each other.' Kate Thomas

'I look forward to going each week as I find it very rewarding and a great way to meet people in a relaxed and non-judgmental environment.' Denise

'I have been going to art therapy for a few months now, it not only helps me with my drawing skills but gets me out to meet new people, maybe make some new friends too. I find it also helps my problem with depression.' PL
