Bishop Richard's letter November 2026

The thin red bricks of St Albans are an appealing feature of our cathedral city. They are found in profusion around the Roman ruins and have been adopted in many newer buildings as an echo of Verulamium's ancient roots. The tower of the abbey church - built in the late eleventh century - utilised many thousands of these, and we see the same style wandering in through the welcome centre constructed in the present one.

Our life together is constantly being built and rebuilt in different ways, using what has been passed down. We speak of being 'self-made' men or women but really there is no such thing; each of us being constructed in large part by what is around and before us.

There's a line I say from the Psalms each morning which says of God:

> 'It is He that hath made us and not we ourselves'. (Psalm 100, called 'Jubilate' in the Prayer Book).

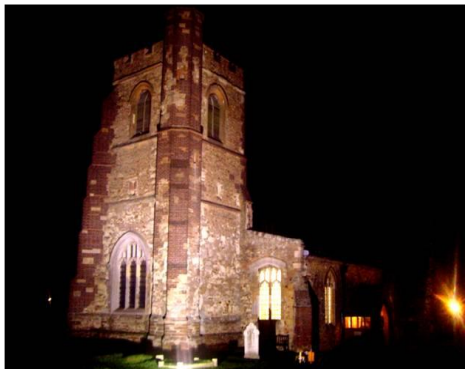

In other words, our prayer, and our life, begin by recognising God as our maker, whatever we may make of this fact. And it struck me this week that the Christian has two construction projects going on at the same time: the 'us' we are constructing for ourselves and the 'us' God is making us into, so that we reflect his likeness ever more clearly.

Growing up into the Christian life, it seems to me, is about realising how vitally important it is to trust and allow God, our master builder, to do this work within us. To make us, brick by brick, into a spiritual house where he settles and dwells.

With the assurance of my prayers,

Bishop Andrew

Hymn of the Month - November

Abide with me - Henry Francis Lyte (1793-1847)

The month of November is a period for reflection.

All Saints' Day (November 1st) commemorates the Saints of the Church.

All Souls' Day (November 2nd) is a day of prayerful remembrance for the faithful departed.

Remembrance Day (November 11th) is the Memorial Day to honour members of the armed forces who have died in the line of duty.

A favourite hymn for Christians facing sorrow and deep distress is "Abide with me."

The author Henry Lyte took the text of the hymn from the account of Christ's appearance with the two disciples on the way to Emmaus and their statement

"Abide with us for it is evening and the day is far spent"

Reverend Lyte was pastor of a Church in Brixham. He suffered with very poor health and was eventually advised to move to Southern Europe to help him survive consumption. After his last Communion Service in Devon, heartbroken at leaving his congregation, he penned the words:

"Abide with me fast falls the eventide;
The darkness deepens; Lord with me abide,
When other helpers fail and comforts flee,
Help of the helpless, O abide with me"

Two months later he passed into the presence of his Lord leaving a legacy of this great Hymn sung by millions of people today.

Barbara Donaldson.

CHURCHWARDENS' NEWS

After our second round of advertising, we have not been able to find a new minister. The search will continue and in the meantime we thank you all for stepping up and helping out. In this regard, the PCC decided not to hold the Christmas Day service in church. The Christingle and Midnight Mass on Christmas Eve is going ahead - many thanks to Reverends Chris Burrows and Mae Palmer.

A good response has been received in regard to wrapping shoe boxes and filling with small gifts for Samaritans Purse to distribute wherever children are deprived. By the time you read this the boxes will be wrapped and packed, and waiting to be delivered to the collection station between the 9th - 16th November.

There has been no response to emails and telephone calls to our Community Payback contact. We have made another application through gov.uk which will hopefully provide a more positive answer. Contact has also been made with a company who will hopefully be able to complete an asbestos survey for us at a reasonable price.

We have been very lucky to obtain grants on the first time of asking, to carry out the required stoneworks on the church. A contract is in the process of being signed and the work is being scheduled by Spotlight Construction.

A couple of tenants of the allotments have handed back their allotments as of September; however, we have a few new people taking up tenancy.

A few groups will be visiting the church over the next few months - a couple of school groups and U3A Historic Church group. If you know of anyone who is interested in historic churches and their preservation, please make them aware of the Friends of St. Margaret's Church Streatley.

Respectfully submitted

Macmillan Coffee Morning

A big thank you for your amazing donation!

We successfully received your payment of £341.00

However you decided to host your Coffee Morning, we hope you and your guests enjoyed spending time together whilst raising money to help people living with cancer.

We'll put the money you've raised straight to work. It could mean someone with cancer can:

- Get help with how they're feeling on our Support Line.
- Be supported by others who know what you're going through on our Online Community.
- Turn to a Macmillan nurse for vital medical, practical and emotional support.

Please rest assured that your funds have been safely received and we're very grateful.

Your donation reference is: 50371830

Thank you again.

The event is free to attend.

St. Margaret's Ladies' Guild
October 2026 meeting

It was lovely to welcome Julia Godino to our meeting to talk to us about her adventures in Vietnam - about a year ago.

Julia commenced by explaining the layout of Vietnam - where there is about 2 and a half hours between North and South - it is about 331 sq.km. The people in the North are quite solemn whereas in the South they are very friendly. There is a mix of mountains, fields and the sea.

25% of the people work in agriculture and 40% in tourism. The biggest exports go to the USA and the biggest imports come from China. They export electronics, textiles/garments, coffee of which they are one of the biggest suppliers, rice, cashew nuts and pepper.

Vietnam is now one of only 5 Communist countries left in the world. Ho Chi Minh was a much-loved leader who died aged 79 in 1969. His body has been embalmed and you can still visit to see him lying in state.

There are lots of temples, lots of spiritualism. At the front of the temples is a very high step to go over which is meant to keep out demons. They worship numerous Gods and often bring offerings to the temples. Outside there are huge stalls selling effigies which you can buy and take in. The country is 80% Buddha and 10% Catholic.
There is a bridge and on each side are 52 statues of Dragons, Phoenix, Turtles, Gods, Heads of snakes and demons, tails of a snake.

Crafts they saw being carried out - Vietnamese hats - which are still worn to protect from the sun. Boxes with mother of pearl inlays, boat building, tailoring and Julia actually had a dress made in about 24 hours, ceramics, lacquer work, needlework, basketry, lanterns and even wine. Julia brought along some samples for us to admire - they were really lovely.

Food - most of this comes from the market. On asking what she had for breakfast, it was a surprise you could have a full English although Noodles were an option. In Cambodia which she also visited Snake and Spiders were on the menu!!

One of the natural wonders - Harlum Bay - now has very little wildlife as the people are so hungry they have eaten all the species!!

They visited some caves created in 1938 and were used as Naval bases during the war. There were lots of stalactites and stalacmites to crawl around. They saw bats, centipedes and geckos in there.

Transport - In Hanoi there are 7 million pedal scooters and no traffic lights - crossing the road is not easy!! They did take a drive in a tuk tuk. They are currently looking at introducing electric scooters.

Currently a millionaire has started to build new towns and fun parks etc. Obviously hoping to attract more tourists, something that Cambodia are desperate for.

Thank you, Julia, for a very enlightening and interesting talk.
